Dear Sir:-

Confirming my teletype message to you today, at which time I advised that [redacted] alias [redacted] b7D who had been employed as a confidential informant, had not produced any results, please be advised that I talked with this informant again today, and he has been unable to make a contact into the Dillinger gang. It is my judgment that he will not be able to make such a contact, and that any money advanced to him, would be wasted. I will therefore terminate his services immediately, unless otherwise instructed.

He was employed from March 6 to March 10, making a total of five days, at $5.00 per day. I have the understanding with this informant, however, that in the event he is able to secure any information which would assist this office in bringing about the apprehension of Dillinger, that I will make some financial arrangement with him at that time.

Very truly yours,

M. H. PURVIS,

Dear Sir:

My attention has just been called to a newspaper item apparently taken from an Omaha newspaper, which is entitled "Anderson Scoops at Idea Bandits May Be Omahans." I notice in that clipping that I am "credited" as having said, "I do not believe John Dillinger is responsible for the Sioux Falls bank holdup. I think the gang probably was from Sioux City, Iowa or Omaha, Nebraska."

Just to let the record be straight, please be advised that no such item appeared anywhere in the Twin City papers and I have not made any statements of that kind to any newspaper representative. Regardless of the source of that article, all I can say is there is no basis to the words quoting me.

Very truly yours,

The apartment house located at Connecticut Avenue and Devonshire Place, Resident Manager, Mr. R. L. Douglas.

It is to be noted that these apartment houses constituted the larger apartment houses from the "Million Dollar" Bridge north on Connecticut Avenue. In each instance, Agents were advised that no individual resembling the photograph of fugitive had made inquiry at any of these apartment houses. In each instance, a copy of Identification Order #1217 was left with the request that this office or the Division be immediately notified should any individual appear resembling the fugitive. In each case, also, it was requested that the purpose and the Identification Order be kept strictly confidential.

Agent Hirsh recalled that an individual who bore a striking likeness to the picture of the fugitive had attended George Washington Law School with him about a year ago. Agent Hirsh was unable to recall his name, but it was felt that if this individual were still residing in Washington he, having been seen upon the streets, had been mistaken for the fugitive. Accordingly, discreet inquiry was made at George Washington University Law School, and it was learned that the individual Agent Hirsh remembered was James Bailey, Jr., who resides at 1701 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W. At that address, Agents interviewed Mr. Bailey, and it was very apparent that he does bear a striking resemblance to the picture of the fugitive. Photographs of Bailey were taken, and two pictures are being attached to this letter. Bailey advised that his home is near Nashville, Tennessee; that he has been attending the George Washington Law School for the last three and one-half years, and that he is at the present time employed at the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, working on a shift from midnight to 8 a. m. Since Wednesday morning, March 14, Mr. Bailey has been confined to his bed with an attack of tonsillitis. Mr. Bailey voluntarily furnished Agents with an impression of his right little finger, and Agent Levin is certain that this finger impression does not agree with the right little fingerprint of the fugitive. Agent Hirsh has known Bailey for at least three years, and is certain that Bailey is not the fugitive. This investigation concerning Bailey was instituted so that photographs of him might be available for display to any individuals claiming to have seen Dillinger in the city.

Dear Sir:-

RE: JOHN DILLINGER, with aliases,
I.O.#1217; et al
NAT. MOT. VEH. THEFT ACT.

There are attached hereto, a photograph of Evelyn Frichette, and a group snapshot also containing a photo of her.

Investigation conducted by this office thus far has shown that one "FRANK KIRTLEY", on December 26, 1933, transferred an Essex Terraplane Coupe to Miss Frichette at Daytona Beach, Florida. It is possible that KIRTLEY is an alias of JOHN DILLINGER. Subsequently, Miss Frichette wrecked the above coupe and traded it in to an automobile dealer in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on another car. The Wisconsin license obtained for the second car was found on Dillinger's car when he was apprehended at Tucson, Arizona in January, 1934. In addition thereto, recent inquiries made by Agents of this office indicate that it is possible that Evelyn Frichette may now be with Dillinger.

Accordingly, it is suggested that sufficient copies of the enclosed photographs be made at the Division and distributed to all Division Field Offices, with ten copies of each for the Chicago Division Office, for the purpose of conducting any investigation which may later become necessary. Kindly return the original pictures when they have served their purpose.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

March 19, 34.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

Chief of the Justice Department

Dear Sir

Last week I wrote a letter to you about the escape of that certain bandit. It will not do much good just to criticize, if one cannot offer some suggestion to better these conditions. I have no doubt, that throughout your career you have come in contact and studied quite a few people and I wonder, to what conclusion you have come to find the blame on and who helps it along.

In my past ten years of experience dealing with that type of people, I have come to the conclusion, that they are most guilty of all the crime committed and for prolonging it.

That type of people are in favor of corrupt city, state and government officials, the more corrupt the official, the more money they make.

John C. Williams

RECORDED &

MAR 21 1934 INDEXED

They are buying stolen goods, which has been in the public mind and has been a dispute by the people quite often in the City I have lived for years.

They are lending money on clothes, jewelry and property, charging excessive interest, with the result, that most of the people are not able to retain their property.

They are 15 times out of 100 behind a crooked deal.

They are in favor of prices and wages going up sky high, so they can go ahead and cut them just enough, to take the business away from the other fellow.

They have no conscience in business, their ambition is to control and monopolize whatever is coming their way and force the other fellow out of business, money is their Religion.

Now there is a better type of them, but should the lesser type of their race be persecuted, they certainly will, right or wrong stick together.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

I also know, that many settlements have been made in business among their race, in case of bankruptcy, a case by which one outside of their race never would have a chance.

I am very much afraid, that this type of people are a great deal to blame for prolonging this present condition and I am sure, that this type has ^{never} suffered from undernourishment.

Now my suggestions are, to stop crime to the greatest extent, to close up all Pawnshops and second hand dealers, these are the ones you can't trust.

To clean up on Money lenders, they are not needed, people, knowing that they couldn't pawn anything would be more careful with their money and thieves wouldn't have a place to get rid of their loot.

This measure would take away the power from those who are controlling crime and money at the same time.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The reason I am writing to you is, because I think the public ought to be more interested about what is going on around them. I am not going to mention that certain race in particular, because 95% of my customers are of that race and as you know, the good always have to suffer for the bad ones.

What my purpose is, honest clean competition in business and no cut-throat methods.

Now I hope Mr Hoover my letter will enlighten you a little on the present conditions.

Very respectfully yours
John B. Priest

Dear Sir:

The enclosed newspaper clipping has been brought to my attention, quoting you to the effect that "I do not believe John Dillinger is responsible for the Sioux Falls bank holding. I think the gang probably was from Sioux City, Iowa or Omaha, Nebraska".

It is also noted that Chief A. C. Anderson of Omaha, Nebraska has taken offense at this quotation. It is requested that you advise the Division whether you are responsible for the above quotation. It is, of course, obvious that no such comment, as the above, should be made by employees of the Division, which brings about opposition rather than cooperation by police departments.

Not a Dillinger
Andersen Scoffs

May Be Omahans

"I do not believe John Dillinger is responsible for the Sioux Falls bank holdup," said Werner Hanni, St. Paul, Minn., chief of the north-west office of the federal department of justice, according to an Associated Press dispatch late Tuesday. "I think the gang probably was from Sioux City, Ia., or Omaha, Neb."

A. C. Andersen, chief of the Omaha detective department, "blew up" when he heard this statement.

"I don't know what Hanni's talking about," he shouted, "and I don't believe he does, either! I never heard of any such mob in Omaha! The only way to treat such a statement is with contempt."

THIS CASE ORIGINATED AT Chicago, Illinois

FILE NO. 88-5685

REPORT MADE AT: Chicago, Illinois	DATE WHEN MADE: 3-15-34	PERIOD FOR WHICH MADE: 3-8, 9, 10, 11, 12 1934	REPORT MADE BY: J. J. WICKALFE
TITLE: JOHN DILLINGER with aliases, et al.		CHARACTER OF CASE: NATIONAL MOVIE PATROL ACT

Records of Deulah Home and Memorial Hospital, Chicago, disclose that Mary Evelyn Frechette was patient there in 1933. Record of association in Greenham, Wisconsin obtained.

Report of Special Agent J. J. Wickalfe, Chicago, Illinois, dated March 8, 1934.

DETAILS: At 311 Madison Street, Chicago, which was ascertained to be a rooming house, the entrance to which is on Madison Street, it was learned from Mr. Highoff, manager, that no person bearing the name or aliases of Evelyn Frechette, or anyone resembling her picture, has resided there to his knowledge. It was learned from him that similar inquiry was made by the Chicago Police Department about December 1933.

At 111 Broadway Avenue, the names of all the mail boxes were inspected, but no name having any interest in this case was found. This is a large court apartment building running from about 721 to 723 in street numbers. The two houses immediately next were likewise checked, but no names of interest were found. In front of this house was noted a Dodge sedan, bearing 1934 Indiana license 543-271, which it was ascertained, were issued to Robert Kiehl, 828 Spencer Street, Logansport, Indiana for 1934 Dodge. These plates were seen on a Dodge sedan that appeared to be about a 1927 model. Interview was had with Angie Erickson, manager of the Broadway Avenue apartment building. These offices is located at 1534 Broadway, Chicago, Illinois.

Ericksen advising that no person by the name of Evelyn Freshman or names similar to her aliases, had been known to reside at this address, and he was unable to identify her picture. He likewise stated that inquiry along the same lines had been made by the Chicago Police Department about December, 1933.

At 2315 Sunnyside Avenue, interview was had with William Kaplan, the janitor, who said he has been at this address for the past 3 years, and that he has never heard of anybody by the name of Arthur S. Cherrington or Harry Copeland as being residents of that building. He was unable to identify the picture of Harry Copeland as being familiar to him. The mail boxes in this apartment building revealed the names of Charles Hall, who Mr. Kaplan said was employed in a credit collection agency in the Pure Oil Building in Chicago, and had resided in this building for the past 7 years. The name of Robert Harris was likewise found. And Kaplan stated that Bob Harris is employed in the sporting goods department of the Fair store, Adams and Dearborn Streets, Chicago, and that his wife, who is now in the hospital is the manager of the building.

The Ravenswood Station of the Post Office, 2311 Lawrence Avenue, had no removal address for Arthur S. Cherrington, and interview with carrier Mr. J. B. John Schellchans at his home, 2311 Castello Avenue, determined that one Arthur S. Cherrington had resided at 2315 Sunnyside Avenue about May or June, 1933 for a period of approximately 2 weeks, and that he had left in a great hurry. No removal address was given by him, and the carrier had no knowledge as to Cherrington's present whereabouts. He suggested interview be had with Mr. Slavin, the owner of the premises, who has an apartment at 2326 Sunnyside Avenue.

At the P.H. Brothers Store, 75 West Washington Street, Chicago, it was learned from Mr. Brothers, manager, that there was no record of any customer by the name of Kirtley, or any other name similar to the aliases of John Billinger, except that he remembered a customer by the name of Joe Harris, who resided somewhere on the north side of Chicago, and who purchased a suit, that was delivered to him. No record of this transaction was kept, however, and no record of the delivery of any package to that name. The salesman who handled this transaction advised Agent, that he did not recall the address of Joe Harris, but did he remember the individual well enough to describe him. He was unable to identify the picture of John Billinger as being familiar to him.

On March 8, 1934, the metropolitan newspapers of Chicago reported that John Dillinger had been seen at a gas station at 73rd Street and Stony Island Avenue, Chicago, on the night of March 7, 1934, and that the person who had seen him, and who had talked with him, was one E.H. Deacon, 1508 East 73rd Street. At 73rd and Stony Island Avenue, it was ascertained that E.H. Deacon is employed at the National Petroleum Gas Station in the northwest corner of said intersection, and accordingly he was interviewed by Special Agent F.C. Guerrero and the reporting agent. Present also at this interview was one Jack Sandstrom, 102 East 75th Street, a young boy, who was likewise present at the time that the person believed to be Dillinger was at the gas station. Mr. Deacon said that Dillinger came to his gas station in an automobile that was either gray or tan in color, and which was driven by another person. The car parked on Stony Island Avenue approximately 100 ft. from the gas station, and according to Mr. Deacon the car appeared to be a Buick Moire chassis with especially constructed taxi-cab body. This body was either gray or tan in color. Dillinger entered the gas station and demanded washing facilities for the purpose of cleaning his hands and face, and he then removed his coat, and Deacon noted that the man wore two revolvers attached to shoulder holsters, one on each shoulder. The gun appeared to be quite small in his manner and at the same time made no requests, but always commanded the station attendant to do his bidding. When he had finished washing, he demanded a towel, and when Deacon went to a cabinet to get the towel the man placed his hand on one of the shoulder guns and pointed it at the attendant as he to cover him in the event he tried to obtain any weapon. This move of covering the attendant was accomplished by swinging the gun up; evidently the holster allowed the barrel to protrude as the barrel of the gun was plainly visible to the gas station attendant. The attendant then brought out a towel and shook it in the air to convince Dillinger that there was nothing in the towel, and he then handed it to him. Dillinger asked Deacon if he knew who he was, and Deacon replied that he did not know anything. Deacon said this was not true, as he at that time recognized the man as Dillinger. Dillinger told him it was a good thing he didn't know who he was, and then said he was looking something similar to - "I sure gave those Indians sheriffs a good running around". He then warned Deacon not to follow him, and left.

This story was substantiated by Jack Sandstrom, who was unable to add anything further.

The car, according to Deacon, then headed south. This was about 3:30 P.M. It was also learned from Deacon that the man thought to be Billinger appeared to slightly limp on his left leg, or seemingly dragged it along the ground, but that this limp or dragging action did not appear to be an infirmity or injury, but only the natural action of a man who had been riding a long time in an automobile and had cramped his leg, or his foot had gone to sleep.

Deacon further advised that a man believed to be Billinger was likewise seen by a man whom he knew by sight, but not by name, and who he thought was an insurance salesman for the Illinois Automobile Club. This man was said to have seen someone resembling Billinger prior to Billinger's capture at Tucson, Arizona in January of this year. Deacon said he would endeavor to obtain his name and advise the Chicago office.

At the Illinois Automobile Club, 5401 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, at the office of the sales manager, it was learned that the only southeast side resident, or salesman of the Illinois Automobile Club Insurance Salesmen, is J. J. Ward, 5404 Dorchester Avenue. It may be noted that there is also an Automobile Club of Illinois, which is an entirely different organization from the Illinois Automobile Club. Interviews will be had again with Mr. Deacon to determine the identity of the man referred to by him, in order to ascertain whether the salesman in question saw Billinger on the street, or whether he saw him coming out of any house.

On March 15, 1934, the Chicago Herald and Examiner carried a report that a person believed to be John Billinger had on the night of March 3, 1934, seized a black sedan belonging to Mrs. Bertha Stern, 5409 South Shore Drive, Chicago, and kidnapped the chauffeur, James W. Gaskin, who was released about 2 miles from the place where the car was taken. The car was taken from in front of the home of Mrs. Stern's married son, Robert L. Stern, 5410 Lakewood Avenue. The item continued by saying that as the black sedan sped away, it was followed by a gray sedan, which was said to be identical to that in which Billinger was reported seen at 73rd and Stony Island Avenue. This article also stated that the stolen car was easily recognizable, because of its white tires. Nothing was said about the make of automobile, but this and other information will be obtained from the persons whose car was taken.

On March 10, 1934, Special Agent J. E. [redacted] telephoned W.R. Boyer, Superintendent of the Indian Agency at Menasha, Wisconsin in an effort to obtain all possible information regarding the identity and possible whereabouts of Mary Evelyn Frechette, and one V. Farrington said to be a friend of the Frechette woman. Mr. Boyer advised that Evelyn Frechette had been at the Polish Home and Maternity Hospital, 1144 North Clark Street, Chicago, in March of 1928, and that she had a sister, Miss or Mrs. Frances Schiltz, whose address was care of Mrs. J. McKee, 1225 North Dearborn Avenue, Chicago. V. Farrington referred to according to Mr. Boyer is one Edward Farrington. Mr. Boyer was requested to forward by letter to the Chicago Office all available information regarding Frechette and Farrington.

[redacted] of the Polish Home and Maternity Hospital, Chicago, 1144 North Clark Street, advised that Mary Evelyn Frechette was there in February, 1928 at the age of 18, at which time she gave birth to a child that died 3 months later of amphis. Evelyn Frechette had 4 men associates, one of whom she claimed was responsible for the child that was born to her. The 4 men and their ages in 1928, are as follows:

b7C [redacted]

All four are said to be from Gresham, Wisconsin. The records further revealed that Frechette was an eighth grade student of Catholic religion. [redacted] said she was a brunette of medium size, and that she had brown eyes. The records show that her father, William Frechette, and mother Mary Frechette, are both dead. The Frechette home was in Neopit, Wisconsin. She had 5 brothers and 2 sisters, but their names are unknown. They are believed to reside in Neopit. [redacted] said that Frechette came to her from the Salvation Army in Chicago, and referred Agent to [redacted] of the Salvation Army Maternity Home. [redacted] also advised that while Frechette was at her hospital, she was in touch with [redacted], telephone [redacted] and that after leaving the hospital she went to reside with [redacted]. This was as late as May 24, 1928. [redacted] furnished a specimen of the handwriting of Evelyn Frechette in the form of a letter addressed by her to [redacted], which is signed "Evelyn". This letter was written from [redacted] on May 24, 1938. It pertained solely to the child that was born to her. This letter is being kept in the Chicago files as a specimen of her handwriting, and it is to be returned to [redacted] when it has served its purpose.

b7D

An inquiry in the neighborhood of 1115 North Hermitage Avenue, determined that a party by the name of Wicker resides on the first floor, and that a party by the name of Rudy resides on the second floor. The Wicker Park post office station had no record of a removal address, or anyone named Rudy or Wicker. The carrier William Broeske, was interviewed at his home 5915 Addison Street, and he advised that the mail which he delivered in the name of Wicker was always received by a young blond woman who smokes cigarettes, and resides on the first floor. He was unable to say whether anyone else resides on the first floor, as the blond woman was the only person he had ever seen there. He also stated that [redacted] lived upstairs and that they managed the premises. He said Mr. Rudy was a day watchman for the closed premises of the American Hide and Leather Company, 1320 Elston Avenue.

Mr. Rudy was interviewed in his place of employment, but he declined to furnish any information regarding the tenants of the building where he resides, and suggested that Mr. Kershik be interviewed, who he said, was the landlord for the premises, and who resides in the basement at 1115 North Hermitage Avenue.

Letters dated March 9 and 10, were received from one George Howard, 250 North Oxford Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, who styled himself as a fingerprinter, and said he also worked on the Star newspaper; these letters containing conclusions arrived at by him from attempting to decipher what he thought to be a code said to have been used by the woman posing as Mrs. John Dillinger when she called on John Dillinger at the Lake County Jail, Crown Point, Indiana. Copies of these communications were forwarded to the Cincinnati office under date of March 10, 1934, requesting that they interview Mr. Howard to determine the reliability of the source of this information, as also to obtain a better explanation of his deciphering methods.

Several communications in person and by telephone have been received by Special Agent in Charge H. L. Purvis from [redacted] confidential informant. The information thus obtained is either to induce and deterrence as to preclude the possibility of intelligent investigation, or is of such a nature as is believed to be of no apparent value in this case. Among other things [redacted] advised that some notorious gangsters have previously been known to live at the Chateau Hotel, 3838 Broadway, which is said to be owned by one Sol Stern. In this connection, it might be noted that Sol Stern is no longer manager of this hotel, but that the manager at present is one Charles [redacted], who is the receiver for the premises, who is located at 625 Sheridan Road.

The report of Special Agent L. D. Nichols dated Chicago, Illinois December 20, 1935, in the case entitled "Vernon E. Miller (deceased), et al., Conspiracy to Deliver Federal Prisoner", sets forth an interview with Mr. Charles [redacted] by Special Agent L. D. Nichols, in which it was learned that he was appointed receiver to succeed the management by Sol Stern and Max [redacted]. He said both of these men were known to the police of Chicago, and were reputed to have evil associates. It was learned that [redacted] is a man of good character and willing to cooperate in every way possible with the authorities, and that he would not tolerate the presence in that hotel of any hoodlums or gangsters, such as had formerly occupied these premises.

[redacted] also advised Special Agent in Charge Purvis that a friend of his had seen Dillinger going south on Stony Island Avenue near 67th Street in a dark colored Ford sedan. However, the license number was not obtained, and no further information was furnished by [redacted] in this connection.

On March 9, 1936, Special Agent J. J. Waters, interviewed William Charles Bigler at the Indiana State Prison, Michigan City, Indiana in connection with another matter, but no information was obtained indicating that Bigler had any relation to Dillinger. [redacted] also advised the names of other individuals he had signed to an extortion note forwarded to William Miller, Frankfort, Indiana on January 2 and 3 of this year. He stated, however, that he did meet Pierpont, Mackley and had previously been an inmate of the Indiana State Prison. Bigler also advised Agent Waters that he knew Pierpont and Mackley very slightly when they were fellow inmates with him at Michigan City. Agent Waters also endeavored to obtain a list of Dillinger's correspondence while Billinger was in the Sanitary at Michigan City, but the clerk of the institution informed Agent Waters that the girl was not there, and all probability had been forwarded to Post Office of the Indiana State Police at Indianapolis, Indiana.

Under date of March 12, 1937, the Division advised by telegraph that the blank correspondence card referred to in the report of reference contained no writing. This card was sent to the Division criminal laboratory to determine if any invisible writing could be found thereon.

With further reference to Evelyn Frechette, it may be further noted that Special Agent Ray C. Newman in his telephonic conversation with the Keshena, Indian Agency at Keshena, Wisconsin, obtained her description, which is as follows:

Name: Mary Evelyn Frechette
Age: 22
Height: 5'2" or 5'3"
Weight: Approximately 140 lb.
Build: Plump
Color of Hair: Dark
Complexion: Fair
Peculiarities: Does not possess Indian features. Considered very good looking. Bears bad reputation.

b7D In connection with the statement under peculiarities, it may also b7C be noted that [redacted] of the Deulah Hospital observed the picture of Evelyn Frechette, which is in the Chicago files, and stated that while it bore some resemblance to the girl, she could not say for a fact that it was her picture, and stated that Evelyn Frechette was much better looking than in the picture in question.

At 234 Lincoln Ave., West, Chicago, inquiry was made by Special Agent F.C. [redacted] to determine if Bill Davis was residing there, but no information of value was obtained.

In an effort to locate Mrs. E. Foster, 2717 Kenmore Avenue, inquiry was made at the Western Post Office station, 1240 Lawrence Avenue, where it was learned that no removal address was on file for Mrs. E. Foster, and that the carrier who served that neighborhood in 1933 was no longer on that route, or was he attached to the same postal station. The records of this station reflected the removal of one Edward Foster from 2721 Kenmore Avenue to 2717 Kenmore, and inquiry at the latter address revealed that a Mrs. Edward Foster had moved from there about 2 or 3 years ago, and that her present whereabouts are unknown. This telephone company is being requested for information regarding the Foster telephone account to determine if Mrs. Foster's whereabouts can thus be ascertained.

In a reference to the lead in the report of reference for investigation to be conducted at Kenosha, Wisconsin, it is to be noted that the report of Special Agent T.F. Mullen dated at Chicago, Illinois January 10, 1934 in the case entitled - "Harry Pierpont with aliases, et al, National Motor Vehicle Theft Act - Murder of Sheriff Jesse Barbara, Lima, Ohio, File 88-5847, sets forth a similar investigation at Kenosha, in which it was determined that only one neighbor of John Hamilton resides at that place, who is Elmer J. Hamilton, 647 25th Avenue, whose home at that time was kept under surveillance by the police department of Kenosha. When conducting investigation at Kenosha the agent should refer to this report of Agent Mullen, and should of course, communicate with the Kenosha police department.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

CINCINNATI OFFICE at INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA, will interview Mat Leach of the Indiana State Police to determine if he has a list of the correspondences of Dillinger which were on file in the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City.

CHICAGO OFFICE at CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, at 2226 Sunnyside Avenue, will interview Mr. Davis to determine what information he has regarding one Arthur E. Thompson, said to have resided there in June 1933.

Chicago Office will again interview Mr. E. H. Deaton at the gas station at the northwest corner of 1st and State Island Ave. to determine the identity of the individual who was said to have been Dillinger prior to his capture at Tucson, Arizona.

At the Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, 2040 North Crawford Avenue, will determine what records are available regarding Evelyn Frechette, who is said to have been in that place in care of Miss Thomas.

At 1115 North Hermitage Avenue, will interview Mrs. S. McKee to determine the present whereabouts of Frances Schultz, the sister of Evelyn Frechette.

At 3400 South Shore Drive will interview James W. Gaskin the chauffeur for Mrs. Herman Stern to obtain the facts regarding the theft of Mrs. Stern's automobile, and to obtain all facts regarding this car and its description.

At the Illinois Bell Telephone Company will make inquiry to determine if Mrs. L. Foster, whose telephone number was Ardmore 0687 in 1939, has a telephone at the present time, in order to locate her and interview her regarding the whereabouts of Evelyn Frechette.

At Kenosha, Wisconsin, superseding the Kenosha lead in the report of reference, this office will communicate with the Kenosha Police Department, and make such further investigation to obtain information regarding the possible whereabouts of John Dillinger, having in mind that Elmer J. Hamilton, brother of John Hamilton, resides at 6407 25th Avenue in Kenosha.

The date of birth of Dillinger was verified by a certificate issued by the school board at Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Navy record indicates that on October 8, 1923, subject Dillinger was received on board and attached to the U.S.S. "Utah" then stationed at Boston, Massachusetts. From 8 A.M. October 28, 1923 to 5:00 A.M. October 29, 1923 (23 hours, 50 minutes), subject Dillinger was A.W.O.L. On November 2, 1923 he was sentenced to solitary confinement on bread and water for ten days with full rations every three days, and to loss of pay amounting to $12.00. On November 3, 1923 there appears a notation "leaving post of duty without authority - Disobedience of orders" sentenced to five days solitary confinement on bread and water.

While attached to the U.S.S. "Utah" at the Navy Yard, Boston, Massachusetts, subject Dillinger was granted liberty to expire December 4, 1923 and he failed to return - left no effects - intentions not known.

On December 20, 1923 he was declared a deserter as of December 4, 1923, reward of $50.00 offered. The record indicates that he was given an undesirable discharge January 13, 1925, a notation appearing to the effect that he was then confined in the Indiana State Reformatory at Pendleton, Indiana.

A copy of I.O. #1217 was left with the Identification Divisions of the Navy Department, War Department, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, with the request that this office be immediately informed of any subsequent enlistment of subject Billinger.

Twenty copies of I.O. #1217 were personally delivered to [redacted] Washington Municipal Police, for distribution to the men under his command with a request that this office be at once notified in the event subject should be recognized.

Five copies of I.O. #1217 were personally delivered to Mr. James McKenna, Passport Division, Department of State with a request that this office be informed immediately should subject Billinger make application for passport. Mr. McKenna indicated his desire to closely cooperate in this matter by sending one copy of the Identification Order to each of their passport agents located at New York City, N.Y., Boston, Massachusetts, Chicago, Illinois and San Francisco, California with the notation that his office as well as the Division Offices located in their respective jurisdictions be immediately notified should subject make application for passport. Mr. McKenna informed this Agent that no passport or visa is required for passengers sailing by steamer or via airplanes for Cuba or Bermuda. Suggestions for action by the Division with respect to this angle of the case are being covered by a letter to the Division.

Twenty-eight copies of I.O. #1217 were left with the superintendent of the Eastern Union Telegraph Company and twenty-two copies with the superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Company, who indicated their desire to cooperate by immediately distributing them to their respective branch offices located throughout the City of Washington.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

St. Louis Office - In the event it has not been done, appropriate investigation should be immediately conducted in the neighborhood of 916 Bain Avenue to establish whether any relatives or friends of subject Dillinger are now living at that address and if not, whether they are now located in any other section of that city, if not, their present whereabouts should be established. Every effort should be made, if possible, to establish the names of all relatives of Dillinger and their present addresses. Tax records on real estate and personal property may be of assistance in this respect.

Cincinnati Office - It is suggested that all information be obtained from the school board at Indianapolis concerning the record of subject Dillinger who attended the public schools at Indianapolis, Indiana, for eight years. These records may indicate names of parents or relatives, addresses and other data which may be of assistance in this case. It is further suggested that the Bureau of Vital Statistics be contacted from which the names of the parents of subject Dillinger may be obtained and their addresses. It is suggested that a request be made there to notify your office should any attempt be made by anyone to secure the birth certificate from their office of subject Dillinger.

REFERRED UPON COMPLETION TO THE OFFICE OF ORIGIN.

Dear Sir:

Special Agent R. P. Burruss has been informed by Mr. James McKenna, passport division, Department of State, that passports are not required for persons leaving via vessel or air transportation for Cuba and Bermuda, and that a similar condition exists with respect to certain Central and South American countries and other foreign countries. Agent Burruss has obtained, and same is being transmitted herewith, a copy of a circular issued by the Department of State, Passport Division, February 15, 1934, listing those countries with which the United States has succeeded in concluding reciprocal agreements for the reduction or abolishment of non-immigrant visa fees, under the authority of an act of Congress of February 25, 1925. Your attention is respectfully invited to the fact that numerous countries on this list require no passport or visa.

Agent Burruss respectfully suggests that it would appear to be helpful and advantageous to immediately instruct the Jacksonville Office to distribute a sufficiently large number of I.O. #1217 to the appropriate offices of the Pan American Airways located in Florida and other Airlines leaving that State for Cuba, Bermuda and Central and South American points. He further suggests that similar action be taken with respect to the steamship lines leaving ports of embarkation for similar points.

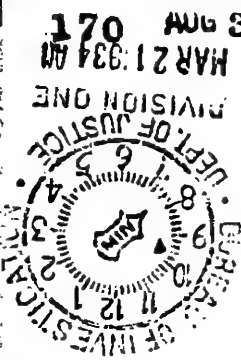

COPIES DESTROYED

Agent Burruss further suggests that a large number of I.O. #1217 be at once delivered to all Canadian Immigration Officials, et al, across the entire Canadian Border. In connection therewith he points out that Herman Barrere who was wanted in connection with the Mary Baker case was located at Montreal, Canada twenty minutes after an Agent from the New York Office personally delivered copies of his photograph to the police at Montreal, Canada. It is further suggested by him that similar action be taken with respect to the Mexican Border.

In the event it has not been done, and having in mind that subject Dillinger previously served as a fireman, third class, in the United States Navy, Agent Burruss further suggests that it may be advantageous to have copies of I.O. #1217 immediately distributed to the Officials of steamship companies who operate both passenger and freight boats on the Great Lakes. This distribution could be accomplished by personally delivering Identification Orders to the leading steamship companies operating out of Buffalo, New York, Cleveland, Ohio and other similar lake ports. He points out in connection therewith that these companies, and primarily those operating freighters, employ seamen and firemen without requesting anything concerning their identity and that it is a well known fact that the crews of these vessels are composed of the toughest element of humanity. It is not an infrequent occurrence for a man to accept employment possibly at Buffalo, New York and to quit the service at Cleveland, Ohio.

The fact that subject Youngblood was located at Port Huron, Michigan March 16, 1934, may carry with it indications that subject Dillinger is also in that locality or other lake ports awaiting an opportunity to cross the border or to accept employment temporarily on some lake steamer.

Very truly yours,

L. R. PENNINGTON, Assistant
Special Agent in Charge.

St. Louis, Ill. Police Department, immediately made a careful survey of the two roads leading from Horse Shoe Lake to East St. Louis, Ill. but was unable to locate or obtain any information concerning the white man and negro in the red colored Buick coupe referred to.

b7c
Shortly after agent's return to the East St. Louis, Ill. Police Dept., [redacted] St. Louis Electric Terminal Ry. Co., put in an appearance and after advising he was the person who phoned stated that at about 2:15 P. M. on March 7, 1934 he was in his Ford Sedan at 26th St. and Madison Ave., Granite City, Ill. and noted parked, headed east, a large red painted Buick coupe bearing new Illinois license plates, numbers unknown; that there was in the car a good sized negro and a white man wearing sideburns and a big, soft, black hat pulled down over his eyes.

[redacted] stated that the negro, who was doing the driving, turned the Buick car around and headed west toward Niedringhaus Ave.; that shortly after they again passed him going east; that after he saw them the second time he was fully convinced that the two in the car were Dillinger and Youngblood who had escaped from Jail at Crown Point, Indiana; that he followed the two men and they kept zigzagging around Granite City for a distance of about three miles when they stopped a white man who later advised him that the man asked the road to East St. Louis and that he informed them to go by the way of Horse Shoe Lake. [redacted] stated that because he was positive the two persons referred to were the two escapes he at once phoned the Granite City police, called at the Madison, Ill. Police Dept. and phoned the St. Louis, Mo. and East St. Louis, Ill. police the information stated above.

[redacted] described the white man referred to as about 30 years of age, 5' 8" or 9" in height, weighing 140 lbs., dark complexion, long dark sideburns cut square, dark overcoat and wearing a large black felt hat pulled down over his eyes close to his ears. He described the negro as 30 years of age, 5' 7" or 8" in height, weighing 180 lbs., very black, round fat face, large lips and wearing dark overcoat.

[redacted] accompanied agent to the St. Louis Division office and then to the St. Louis, Mo. Police Department and at both places positively identified photos of Dillinger and Youngblood as the men previously mentioned.

At the St. Louis Police Department, Lieut. Jeremiah O'Connell advised this agent that immediately upon receipt of the phone message from Special Agent in Charge Ladd furnishing the above mentioned information he caused a general order to be issued to all members of his department to be on the lookout for a white man and a colored man in a red Buick coupe and that he immediately caused additional men to be placed at the St. Louis approaches of the bridges between St. Louis, Mo. and Illinois.

On March 8, 1934 agent, accompanied by George Byrne, Chief of Detectives, East St. Louis, Ill., proceeded to the Granite City, Ill. Police Dept. and there contacted Deputy Sheriff Harry Ogan and Police Officer Ray Williamson. After making numerous inquiries at Granite City it was ascertained that the man referred to by [redacted] who was stopped by the white man and negro in the red Buick coupe the day previous, [redacted]

[redacted] was contacted by agent and the officers previously mentioned and stated that about 3:25 or 3:30 P. M. on March 7, 1934 on the Namsoki Road between the Edwardsville Road and Sandy Ave. on the outskirts of Granite City, a white man and a negro in a red colored coupe headed south stopped him; that the negro was driving; that the white man inquired as to the road to East St. Louis, Ill. and that he directed him by the way of Horse Shoe Lake. When shown a photo of Dillinger, indicating his age to be 21 in 1934, and a photo of Youngblood, indicating his age to be 29 in 1933, [redacted] stated that the photos somewhat resembled the two men he saw in the red colored coupe, but the photo of Dillinger appears to be a younger man than the white man and the photo of Youngblood appears to be a little older than the colored man. [redacted] described the white man as 28 or 30, 175 lbs., medium build, black soft hat, black overcoat. He described the negro as about 175 lbs., very black, and wearing a red sweater.

After making numerous inquiries at Horse Shoe Lake on the road leading into East St. Louis agent and the officers mentioned contacted [redacted] who conduct a tavern on that road. They stated that on March 7, 1934 at about 3:00 P. M. a white man and a negro in a large maroon colored coupe bearing Illinois license plates, numbers unknown, drove to about twenty-five feet south of their tavern, which is on the side of the road, and instead of facing their car to the entrance of the tavern, they backed in and kept the car facing south toward East St. Louis, with the motor running; that the white man alighted from the car, entered their tavern, and inquired if they were on the right road to East St. Louis, stating that they got lost in Granite City, Ill. and did not know the way out, and that when [redacted] answered in the affirmative the white man asked if they served draught beer to negroes; that when [redacted] stated they did the white man went to the rear door, whistled and beckoned for the colored man to come in; that the colored man left the engine of the car running and entered, that each ordered a glass of beer. Nothing was said by either. The white man paid for the beer and the two then again entered the maroon colored coupe, drove south on the road leading to East St. Louis and that was the last they had seen of either. When shown photos of Dillinger and Youngblood both [redacted] stated that they were pretty sure Dillinger was the white man previously referred to and both stated they were absolutely positive that the photo of Youngblood was that of the negro accompanying the white man in the maroon coupe, as previously stated.

[redacted] described the white man as 33 to 40 years of age, 5' 8" in height, weighing 140 to 150 lbs., soft hat, believed to be dark gray, gray overcoat and apparently had not been shaved for several days; they described the negro as 25 to 30 years of age, 5' 10" in height, weighing 180 lbs., short black kinky hair, wearing cap, and had very dark brown skin.

On leaving the [redacted] agent and the officers made a thorough canvass of the cottages, taverns, etc. in and around Horse Shoe Lake but were unable to obtain any additional information relative to the man and the car heretofore mentioned.

On returning to the Granite City Police Dept. the Desk Sargent advised that an unknown person phoned to the effect that at 8:30 that morning, March 8, 1934, a white man and a colored man in a red painted car were seen traveling north toward Namecki leading to the main highway for Chicago. After numerous inquiries on the Namecki Road on the outskirts of Granite City it was ascertained that the phone call referred to was made by one [redacted] at the request of his mother-in-law, [redacted] upon interview stated that at about 8:30 A. M. on March 8, 1934 she was at her window and saw a white man and a negro in a red car going north toward Namecki, Ill.; that the white man was driving; that she did not know the make of the car; that she could not give a description of either man because they were driving fairly fast when they passed her home.

On March 9, 1934 George Byrnes, Chief of Detectives, East St. Louis, advised agent that the night men in his department had just informed him that a white man and colored man in a maroon colored car stayed for two nights at the shack of a negro, [redacted], in East St. Louis; that his men, accompanied by [redacted] Terminal R. R. Assn., endeavored to locate the two men but were unsuccessful.

On receipt of this information, Sergeant Patrick Byrne, East St. Louis Police Dept., called on [redacted] who resides in a small shack at Black Bridge, south of St. Clair Ave. and west of the Terminal Railroad tracks in East St. Louis. [redacted] stated that on Sunday night, March 2, 1934, at about 9:00 o'clock a white man and a colored man in a Buick four door sedan, maroon in color, wooden spokes, and bearing Arkansas license plates A-55978, called at his place and the white fellow stated they had been drinking a little and wished to stay all night; that he said to the white fellow "Alright" and the white fellow then took off his overcoat; that he then noticed the white fellow had two 45 caliber revolvers in holsters strapped around him; that the white fellow kept the revolvers strapped on him and threw himself across the bed; that the colored fellow kept on his overcoat and sat and threw himself across the foot of the bed; that he stayed in the room with the two men, but neither of them slept; that at 4:00 o'clock the following morning both left in the Buick sedan which they had previously concealed in the rear of his shack. [redacted] stated that about 9:00 o'clock on Monday night, March 5, 1934, the same two fellows in the same Buick Sedan again called at his place; that they had a pint of whiskey with them; that they started to talk about women and when the white fellow asked if he could find some women for them, stating that they would treat the women alright, he advised he did not know where they could get any women; that the white fellow again discarded his overcoat at which time he, [redacted] again observed the two large 45 caliber revolvers in holsters strapped around him; that the colored fellow kept on his overcoat and sat and after talking for a few minutes both threw themselves across the bed; that neither slept, spoke very little, and that about 4:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 6, 1934, both left in the Buick sedan but did not say where they were going and that was the last he saw or heard of them.

[redacted] stated that during the two nights the white man and colored man were at his shack they did not mention their business, where they were from, or anything relative to their past. He further stated that the two fellows referred to did not offer him anything for the two nights lodging at his shack other than a drink of whiskey each night.

[redacted] stated there was but one coal oil lamp, with part of a chimney, in the room in his shack during the two nights the white and colored fellows referred to stayed there and for that reason he was unable to observe either very closely; that on Sunday night, March 5, 1934, after observing the two revolvers strapped around the white man he went to get some coal which was on the ground in the rear of his shed close to where the fellows had concealed their Buick sedan; that two overhead lights, property of the Terminal R. R. Assn., gave him a good view of their car; that at that time he noted the license plates to be yellow and black and marked Arkansas A-63978; that he also noted that the car was a maroon colored, four door Buick sedan.

bK [redacted] stated that the photo shown him of [redacted] somewhat resembled the colored fellow who stayed at his shack and that the photo of Dillinger shown him resembled the white man except that the white man appeared to be older than the photo of Dillinger.

[redacted] describes the white man referred to as 45 years of age, 5' 8" or 7" in height, 155 to 160 lbs., dark complexion, smooth shaven, brown eyes, dark brown hair, light soft hat, light overcoat, blue serge suit and tan shoes. He described the colored man referred to as 39 years of age, 5' 8" in height, 160 lbs., brown skin, maroon eyes, black, short, kinky hair, small mustache, soft gray hat, blue overcoat and light suit.

[redacted] concluded by stating that on Tuesday, March 6, 1934, at about 4:00 o'clock he notified [redacted] Terminal R. R. Assn. of the appearance of the white man and the negro at his shack on the two evenings previous and that on that same night [redacted] accompanied by several police officers, kept his shack under surveillance, but the two men did not reappear.

[redacted] upon interview stated that immediately upon receipt of the afore said information from [redacted] he notified the East St. Louis Police Dept. and that during the night of March 6, 1934 and the early morning of March 7, 1934 he, accompanied by several officers of that department, kept the [redacted] shack under surveillance but the two men referred to by [redacted] did not put in an appearance.

On receipt of the information from [redacted] that the Buick four door sedan, maroon color, which was in the possession of the two men referred to, bore Arkansas license plates A-63978, yellow and black in color, agent telephonically communicated with the Automobile Theft Bureau of the St. Louis Police Dept. and was advised that they have no record of such plates having been stolen and that the 1933 Arkansas license plates are orange and black in color.

On the evening of March 10, 1934 George Byrnes, Chief of Detectives, East St. Louis, phoned this agent that two of his men had just reported to him that one [redacted] East St. Louis, and a friend in a red Buick car were in the vicinity of Granite City, Ill. on March 7, 1934 and got lost; that they made inquiries as to the road back to East St. Louis and possibly they were the men previously referred to by [redacted]

Agent at once proceeded to the East St. Louis Police Dept. and, accompanied by Chief of Detectives Burns, contacted [redacted] who stated he was not in Granite City at any time; that on March 9, 1934 he and [redacted] who conducts a barber shop at [redacted] East St. Louis, went to Venice, Ill. in the latter's green Chevrolet coupe to purchase some fish; that after purchasing the fish they had forgotten the road leading back to East St. Louis; that after inquiring of a man at Venice the way back to East St. Louis they returned that same afternoon.

[redacted] who conducts a barber shop at [redacted] East St. Louis, was contacted and corroborated the information furnished by [redacted]

For the information of the Oklahoma City Division Office, there is being enclosed herewith copy of reference report, dated March 9, 1934.

UNDEVELOPED LEAD:

OKLAHOMA CITY OFFICE will ascertain to whom 1933 Arkansas license plates 1-83878 were issued and if there is any record of same having been misplaced or stolen.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. COWLEY

Agent in Charge Purvis at Chicago advised me that he had gotten touch with a Deputy Sheriff at Port Huron, Michigan, this morning, who stated that so far as he knew Dillinger had not been there; that Youngblood has not been positively identified. He stated that the man who is supposed to be Youngblood has made no statement, and the statement supposed to have been made by him to the effect that Dillinger was with him was misinterpreted by the newspapers. He is not expected to live. Mr. Purvis advised that the Detroit Office has sent Agent Murphy to Port Huron to handle this matter.

Very truly yours,

Director.

Re: JOHN DILLINGER, with

Theft Act

Dear Sir:

In connection with the above entitled case, it has been ascertained that one Jerome Love of Tucson, Arizona, an employee of an Indian Agency, alleged to be located in that city was a very close friend of one Evelyn Frochette, who is alleged to be an associate of Dillinger. Evelyn Frochette is a half-breed Indian, coming originally from Neopit, Wisconsin. Jerome Love is also a former resident of Neopit.

It has also been reported that when Dillinger was apprehended in Tucson, Arizona - Wisconsin tags found on his automobile. These tags were issued to Evelyn Frochette for an Essex coupe which she purchased in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on January 5, 1934. It is believed possible that Jerome Love may have contacted Evelyn Frochette if she was apprehended with Dillinger at Tucson.

It is suggested therefore that appropriate inquiry be made of Jerome Love to determine if he has any information concerning her whereabouts subsequent to the Tucson incident. Appropriate inquiry should also be made relative to the tags referred to above.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CLEGG.

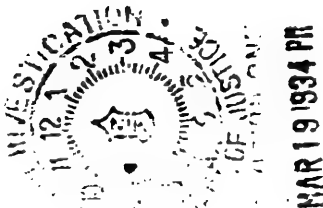

In connection with the Dillinger Case I beg to advise that several photographs of latent fingerprints were received in the Single Fingerprint Section yesterday from Mr. J. M. Robertson, the sheriff at Mason City, Iowa. These fingerprints were found in connection with the bank holdup at Mason City in which Dillinger was supposed to have been identified as the leader. Several of the latent prints appear to be palm prints and only one affords sufficient detail to be of much value. It has been compared with Dillinger's prints with negative results.

The sheriff also mentions an individual by the name of *Carpenter supposedly a former associate of Dillinger, who may have participated in the holdup. We have been unsuccessful in identifying Carpenter on this information alone and are wiring the sheriff for further data.

The above information is being submitted for record purposes.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter dated March 8, 1934, in connection with the case entitled John Dillinger, Herbert Youngblood; National Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

No evidence of invisible writing could be developed on the blank correspondence card which you submitted. Several fragmentary latent fingerprints, however, were developed on the card. These do not afford sufficient detail to permit classification for search through the single fingerprint file. One copy of these fingerprints is being transmitted herewith to your office and should you subsequently be in a position to furnish the names of any suspects in connection with this letter whose fingerprints may be of record in the Division comparisons can be made between the fingerprints of such suspects and the latent prints developed.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR.

Replying to your request that I submit a memorandum as to what action was taken toward the apprehension of Dillinger last night when it was flashed that he was in the city of Washington, I beg to advise that I have talked with Supervisors Newby and Stapleton and Assistant Special Agent in Charge Pennington, of the Washington Field Office, all of whom have advised that no action has been taken and that they did not know that such a flash had been made. I did not know myself that Dillinger was reported to be in Washington until about noon when a lady called who refused to give her name, and advised that she had seen Dillinger in Washington but that she was not certain as to his identity until she saw in the papers that he was reported to be here. I have called Mr. Pennington, of the field office, and instructed that he immediately endeavor to determine whether Dillinger is in this city and, if so, cause his apprehension.

Special Agent in Charge,
Division of Investigation,
U. S. Department of Justice,
Hurley-Wright Building,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the case entitled JOHN DILLINGER, et al,
NATIONAL MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT ACT. On the evening of March 14, 1934, it was broadcast over the radio that Dillinger, one of the nation's foremost criminals, was in the city of Washington and had been identified by certain individuals.

This information was contained in the morning papers of March 15, 1934. In the afternoon of the same day, Mr. Couley of the Division communicated with you by telephone and was advised that no action had been taken by your office to determine the accuracy of the above information or to make any effort to cause his apprehension although it does appear that the local police department had been working on the case since at least the evening of March 14.

It is obvious that the Washington Field Office did not exhibit any degree of alertness in this case and it would appear that the proper relationship does not exist between your office and the local police department which had been working on the case for a considerable time before your office even knew that Dillinger was reported to be in Washington
although the local police department undoubtedly knew that this Division was interested in causing Dillinger's apprehension for the violation of a Federal statute over which this Division has primary investigative jurisdiction.

It also appears that you should have available some reliable contacts or informants who might be depended upon to obtain information concerning the presence in the city of Washington or in your territory of notorious criminals. It is suggested that appropriate steps be taken in order that a recurrence of such delinquencies on the part of the Washington Field Office may be avoided.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Chas. Splittgarber, owner of National Auto Tourist Camp, Phantom Lake, Toyahvale, Tex., identified photographs seen in newspapers of John Dillinger and Harry Pierpont as being parties who stopped at his tourist camp on June 5, 1931 using names of James and Raymond Glassford of Lexington, Ky. They were accompanied by two other men and two women, also a Mrs. Cornell and a Miss Green. Dillinger, Pierpont and Harry Cornell and the two unidentified women left before Mrs. Cornell in Auburn and Cadillac beds. Later Mr. Splittgarber read in the newspapers where Harry Cornell was killed when Dillinger and his gang robbed a bank in Michigan.

DETAILS: Mr. Charles Splittgarber who owns and operates the National Auto Tourist Camp at Phantom Lake, near Toyahvale, Texas, was interviewed and stated that on June 5, 1931 several parties stopped at his tourist camp and registered under the names of James Glassford, Raymond Glassford, Neal Cornell, Mrs. Cornell and Miss Green, all of them registering from Lexington, Kentucky, except Mrs. Cornell who registered from Pyote, Texas; that all of

Spittgarber stated at his tourist camp for about three or four months, that the two Glassfords, when they first came there, were driving two Auburn sedans and were accompanied by two women who did not register; that Mrs. Cornell claimed to have two sons, one, Harry Cornell, approximately 33 years of age, and Neal Cornell, about 23 years of age, and a grandson, Dale Cornell, 16 years of age.

Mrs. Cornell was driving an old Chevrolet car with a pick-up body on it, bearing Texas license 208138. The Auburn sedan driven by James Glassford bore Kentucky 1931 license 218729.

Mr. Spittgarber stated that since the Dillinger gang was arrested in Tucson, Ariz., he recognized the photographs in the newspapers of Dillinger as being James Glassford and Pierpont as Raymond Glassford; that the pictures of the others were not any of the parties accompanying Dillinger and Pierpont while at his tourist camp; that he never saw any of the pictures in the papers of the two women who were apprehended with them at Tucson and is therefore unable to say whether any of the women at the tourist camp were the same ones who were with them at Tucson.

Mr. Spittgarber further stated that the Glassfords, Harry and Neal Cornell, accompanied by the two unidentified women, left his tourist camp before Mrs. Cornell, her grandson and Miss Green left; that he noticed after the Glassfords left that Mrs. Cornell was rather short of funds. Prior to that time all of them apparently had plenty of money and would give large tips to him and his wife for small services rendered them; that they insisted in their travels around over the country that he and his wife should accompany them; that they had plenty of firearms, pistols and rifles and that, that he afterwards learned was a machine gun, was lying in the bottom of one of the Auburn sedans; that they did quite a bit of shooting at targets, tin cans, etc., while at the camp; that they claimed to be race horse men who had recently sold their horses and had come down to Texas on a little pleasure trip.

Mr. Spittgarber stated that Fannie K. Jones, who formerly lived at Phantom Lake and taught school there, was well acquainted with the Cornells and that he had learned that Miss Green is now teaching a small school near Elfron, Ariz.

Mr. Spittgarber said that when this party first came to his tourist camp they had two Auburn sedans and one Chevrolet car with the pick-up body on it which latter car evidently belonged to Mrs. Cornell; that both of the Auburn cars bore Kentucky licenses, one of them being No. 218729 for 1931. The other license number was not placed upon the register. According to Mr. Spittgarber, one of the Auburn sedans had broken down on one of their various trips up in the mountains and they had taken this car to El Paso, Tex., where they traded it off for a practically new second hand Cadillac sedan which bore a Texas license.

Cornell was killed in a bank robbery in Michigan. Mrs. Cornell and her grandson, Dale Cornell, and Miss Green did not leave with the Glassfords but left about four or five days later, sometime late one night. He does not know whether Miss Green left with Mrs. Cornell or not as she was trying to get someone to drive her to El Paso.

Spittiggarber described Miss Green as a blonde, about 25 years of age and heavy set; stated that he does not know much about the descriptions of the other two women as they usually remained in their car.

The register sheet under date of June 11, 1931 was obtained from Mr. Spittiggarber and is attached as heretofore of this report for the Division with the request that it be photostated in order to obtain a handwriting specimen of Dillinger and Pierpont. This sheet should be returned to the El Paso office to be returned to Mr. Spittiggarber.

Sheriff Louis Robertson of El Paso, Texas, advised agent that Harry Matthews, Texas State Highway Patrolman, in El Paso had secured all the license numbers from the motor vehicles and checked them on them.

Agent interviewed Harry Matthews, Texas Highway Patrolman, stationed at Van Horn, Texas. He stated that he did have these numbers and had either written or typed the names of the cars at Kentucky and found that the cars were bought and paid for and registered under the names given by Dillinger and Pierpont at the tourist camp at Phantom Lake.

Dear Sir:-

RE: JOHN DILLINGER, with aliases,
I. O. #1417; et al.
KID. NOT. VEHICLE THEFT ACT.

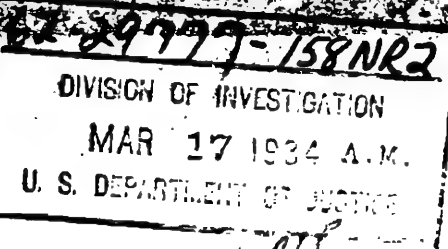

In connection with the above entitled case, it has been ascertained by this office that an Essex Coupe, 1932 model, motor number 14638, bearing Wisconsin tags No. 89001, was traded sometime in January, 1934, to an automobile dealer in Saint Louis, Missouri, named Dehardt. As a result of the trade-in, a new Hudson or Essex was obtained the balance having been paid in cash. The 1932 Essex Coupe was owned by Miss Evelyn Frichette and was originally given to her by one "FRANK KIRKLEY".

It has been developed by this office that Miss Evelyn Frichette is an associate of JOHN DILLINGER and that possibly FRANK KIRKLEY is another alias of Dillinger's. It is requested that a thorough investigation be conducted in connection with the purchase of the automobile in Saint Louis with a view to determining, if possible, whether the purchase was made by Miss Frichette herself and whether any contacts were made by her, or anyone who may have been with her when the car was bought in Saint Louis.

Dear Sir:-

RE: JOHN BILLINGER, with aliases,
I. O. #1217; et al.
NATIONAL MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT ACT

Investigation conducted by this office in connection with the above entitled case has revealed that one FRANK KIRKLEY, on December 26, 1933, transferred an Essex Terraplane Coupe at Daytona Beach, Florida, to one Elsie Evelyn Friedman.

The bill of sale transferring the above car, the motor number of which was 21132 and the manufacturer's number 70921, was notarized on December 26, 1933 before D. R. Beach, a notary public at Daytona Beach, Florida. Illinois tags (1933), numbered 1,270,941, had been issued to Kirkley and were on the car at the time of the transfer.

There is reason to believe that "KIRKLEY" may have been identical with BILLINGER and it is requested that a photograph of Billinger be exhibited to the notary public mentioned above to ascertain whether they are identical. If such is the case, a thorough investigation should be made to develop any information possible concerning Kirkley's whereabouts while he was in Florida and what contacts, if any, he made there.

[redacted] a newspaper published in Vancouver, Washington, telephoned the undersigned this date and advised that he has obtained certain rather indefinite information through a local grocer [redacted] which he probably should pass on to this office for appropriate inquiry with reference to the above named John Dillinger. [redacted] stated that [redacted] [redacted] is a reputable grocer in Vancouver, and informed him that his,
[redacted] Chicago, was the proprietor of a chain of hotels at that point; that [redacted] was presently on the East Coast, making a survey as to the practicability of going into the hotel business here; that [redacted] had stated that he desired to get away from Chicago and the "gang element" and during his conversations he mentioned the fact that "I know a— well that Dillinger is at one of my best hotels now". This was the extent of the conversation and according to [redacted] it was undoubtedly purely an expression of his belief and not based upon any actual information in [redacted] possession that Dillinger was in one of his hotels.

According to [redacted] one left Vancouver and is alleged to be en route to California, although his intended whereabouts is not known. [redacted] stated that he got interviewed as he did not desire [redacted] to know that he had furnished the information stated above.

This is forwarded to you for such inquiry as you may feel it warrants with reference to ascertaining the identity of [redacted]

CINCINNATI OFFICE at Hamilton, Ohio, will maintain contacts with the Sheriff's Office and Police Department and also with [REDACTED] [REDACTED] view of definitely establishing the residence of Leroy Hooten.

Gil Grevey, 823 Central Ave., will also be contacted with view of ascertaining whether he has obtained information as to the location in Kentucky where the Hooten family visited during the first part of February, 1934. Other contacts will be made to determine whether any suspicious cars are seen in the vicinity of Hooten's relatives located in and about Hamilton.

At Dayton, Ohio, it will be discreetly ascertained what connection Margaret Galloway might have with the Wagner family, Hamilton, Ohio, and also whether or not Dillinger might possibly be in or about Dayton, Ohio.

PENDING

The Sheriff's Office has also established a connection with a resident living near the farm of Ralph Hart, Seven Mile, Ohio, who is living on Route 22, which is located about one and one-half miles north of Seven Mile. Mrs. Hart is a sister of Mrs. Madai Hooten.

Police at Hamilton, Ohio, have been watching Walter and Edna (Toots) Clark, 1005 S. 2nd St., who are close friends of Harry Campbell, member of the Dillinger Gang, and also the George and Ralph Wagner families, 1052 and 1054 S. 2nd St., Hamilton relatives of Leroy Hooten.

Mrs. Edna McDonald, 112 Main St., at the corner of S St., Hamilton, who is related to the Clarks and the Hootens, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner, 14 S. D St., Hamilton, have also been kept under surveillance by the Hamilton Police and Sheriff's Office.

Various trips have been made by agents to the Stockton Club, at Stockton, Ohio, near Hamilton, Ohio, this club being operated by Harvey Langdon, an ex-convict and friend of the Hootens. No foreign or suspicious cars have been observed to be stopping there.

Agents have also kept the various addresses under surveillance and have observed nothing suspicious with the exception of on one occasion two men were seen to drive rapidly away from in front of 1052 S. Second St., late one evening. They were driving a green colored, 1933 Chevrolet Sedan, bearing 1934 Ohio license plates #A 65-073.

It was observed, however, that neither of the persons in the car was identified as Dillinger and under the conditions in which the car was sighted it was impossible to give chase. It has been ascertained that said car is registered in the name of Margaret Calloway, 709 N. Broadway, Dayton, Ohio, and is bearing motor #3870597. This angle of the investigation is being checked further to establish the identity of Margaret Calloway and whether or not there is any connection between this individual and Dillinger.

Attention is invited to the report of Special Agent F. E. Hurley, Cincinnati, Ohio, dated 3-13-34 in the case entitled HARRY PIERPONT, with aliases, et al., NAT'L MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT ACT, MURDER OF SHERIFF JESSE BARBER, Lima, Ohio, ESCAPE FROM INDIANA STATE PRISON. In this report it will be noted that Captain Pate of the Louisville, Ky., Police Department, had received confidential information to the effect that Dillinger is said to have visited Lebanon, Ky., a few days subsequent to his escape from the County Jail at Crown Point, Ind., it being reported that Dillinger had gone to Chicago, thence to Evansville, Ind., Bowling Green, Ky., and into Lebanon, Ky., and probably contacted Frank Whitehouse, a close friend, who is at the present time in Lebanon, Ky. Investigation, however, at Lebanon, Ky., has failed to elicit any information indicating that Dillinger has been in Lebanon, although he is said to have numerous friends and relatives in this vicinity of Kentucky. This angle of the investigation is being followed up by the Cin-

The Bascum boys were formerly located in business at 214 Main St., Hamilton, but have moved and their present location is unknown.

At 317 Central Avenue, former residence address of the Bascum boys, it was ascertained that they were now living in care of Mrs. Bertha May Mitts, Hanover and Fifth Sts., Hamilton. An inquiry was made of Mrs. Bertha Mitts and it was ascertained that William F. Bascum, father of the boys, was very ill and could not be interviewed. Mrs. Mitts advised that the whereabouts of the Bascum boys was not definitely known to her, but that they had gone to Florida for a few days. She claimed not to know Leroy Hooten. Mrs. Mitts was not pressed for further information in view of the fact that she was given the impression that a casual friend of the Bascum boys was making the inquiry.

It was also ascertained by Chief Deputy Sheriff Walke, that the Hudson Coach bearing Ohio license plates #902509 is now stored in the garage at the rear of 1005 S. Second St., Hamilton, this being the residence of the Clark family, who are reported to be related to the Hootens. It is the opinion of the Sheriff's Office that Hooten is staying at this address and that he has likely accompanied the Bascum boys to Florida for a load of fruit and vegetables, inasmuch as he has not been seen around Hamilton for the past few days.

It has been planned by both the Sheriff's Office and the Police Department that in the event Hooten is seen on the street driving the Hudson Coach, he will be followed with view of finding out just where he is making his residence.

Hooten has previously worked for Tanner and Atherton, 610 S. Second St., Hamilton, who are also in the fruit and vegetable business, and they have not been contacted as yet in view of their absence. This firm, however, is considered to be of good reputation.

In the event the Hootens' residence is not definitely established in the near future, contact will be made at the Tanner and Atherton Company with view of ascertaining whether or not they have information regarding the present address of Hootens.

Safety Sheriff Walke and Deputy Sheriff Lincoln have established contact in the vicinity of the home of Mrs. Lena Ross, Route #4, Hamilton, which is located on the Middletown, Ohio, Highway near the Fair Grounds. It will be noted here that the Hootens stayed for a time in a small house adjacent to the home of Mrs. Lena Ross during the fall of 1933. It is believed that this is the place where the Dillinger Gang was hiding out at the time the Indiana State Police came into Hamilton, Ohio, to effect the apprehension of the gang soon after the escape of Dillinger from the Lima, Ohio, Jail, and at the time Sheriff Jesse Sarber was murdered. It is believed that the Wagner boy had gone to them at this address and advised them as to the presence of the Indiana State Police in Hamilton.

to be sent to 1052 S. Second St. and upon arriving there he inquired for Hooten. The collector was informed that Hooten's whereabouts was unknown. The collector then presented the unpaid bill and stated he was attempting to collect from Hooten.

Further information was ascertained to the effect that Hooten had sold a Chevrolet car he had previously registered in the State of Arizona to Gil Grevey, who conducted a used car business and is an agent for the Continental Motors. His place of business is located at 825 Central Avenue, Hamilton.

Mr. Gil Grevey was interviewed and advised that Dewey Bassum, who was only known to him in a casual way and resided at 917 Central Avenue and who has lived in Hamilton for about two years, being engaged in the wholesale fruit business, had called on him one day advising that a friend had wanted to sell a 1929 Chevrolet Coach. Grevey told Bassum to bring it around and he would look it over. The same day Bassum, in company with a man and woman whom he introduced as Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hooten, offered the car for sale and Grevey agreed to purchase same for $100.00. The Hootens then advised him there was a mortgage on the car in favor of the Capital Loan and Savings Company of Hamilton. Grevey stated he agreed to buy the car on the condition that he would pay off the mortgage of $50.00 and then give the balance of the selling price to Hooten, only after he had received title to same. This was agreed to and the deal was closed on 2-2-34.

Grevey stated he had never met the Hootens prior to this occasion, but was informed by Bassum that Hooten was working with him in the fruit business. Grevey stated that the Bassum boys, George and Dewey, own and operate a Dodge truck and a Ford V-8 Truck, which they drive to Florida for loads of fruit and vegetables which are disposed of by them in the City of Hamilton. From this information it is quite likely that Hooten used Bassum's Dodge truck in moving his furniture from the Lawn Avenue address. Grevey further stated that on 2-2-34 Bassum had requested him, Grevey, to loan him a set of dealer's tags as the Hootens wanted to make a trip to Kentucky in another car. Grevey stated that this request was denied. As to the name of the town to be visited by the Hootens, Grevey stated it was not mentioned at the time, but it had slipped his recollection. He stated that he would endeavor to ascertain this information and furnish it later.

A search of the motor vehicle registration records of Butler County in cooperation with the Sheriff's Office was made and it was ascertained that on 2-2-34 a 1929 Hudson Coach, blue in color, was registered to Mrs. Naomi Hooten, 1052 S. 2nd St., Hamilton, Ohio, and she obtained 1934 Ohio license plates #450-309 for the car. This car had been sold to Hooten, according to the records, by a Col. J. R. Robertson, 214 Market St., Hamilton, and the documents described the car as a Hudson Coach, motor #465747, serial #777292. Col. Robertson is head of the Boy Scouts at Hamilton and at the present time is on vacation in Florida.

The following day, this agent in company with Special Agent J. W. Johnson of the Cincinnati Office, ascertained from Chief Deputy Sheriff Walke of Hamilton that General Bush, in command of the Ohio National Guard Unit guarding the Lima, Ohio, Jail where Harry Pierpont, Charles Barker and Russell Clark are being tried for the murder of Sheriff Barber, had received a telegram on the evening of 3-11-34 which was directed to the Hamilton Police Department, setting forth that Mary Kinder (Pierpont's moll) had left Indianapolis, Indiana, and purchased a ticket for Lima. The telegram further stated that they believed Dillinger was somewhere in the Southern part of Ohio and would likely hide out in Hamilton.

In this connection, Special Agent E. J. Wynn at Indianapolis, Indiana, had received information from Chief of Police Michael P. Morrissey and Chief of Detectives Simon that Mary Kinder left Indianapolis, Indiana, Sunday, March 11, 1934, stating that she was going to Lima, but that a check made there indicated that she had not arrived in Lima. Lieut. Howe, of the Chicago Police Department, working directly out of the Police Commissioner's Office, had advised the Indianapolis Police that Mary Kinder is in Chicago, Ill., and had contacted one "Pat", a moll of Harry Copeland, the opinion being advanced that Mary Kinder was endeavoring to contact Dillinger and secure his aid in helping Pierpont at Lima. It may also be mentioned here that Attorney Joseph Ryan, mentioned in the report of Special Agent Mullen, Chicago, Ill., 5-9-34, page 7, is somewhat of a mystery as an attorney that he does not maintain an office and is otherwise peculiar. His present whereabouts is unknown to the Indianapolis Police.

The information gained from the Indianapolis Police is that Joseph Ryan was registered at the Sherman Hotel, Chicago, Ill., for a few days just prior to the escape of Dillinger from Crown Point, Indiana, and that prior to the date Dillinger escaped, Joseph Ryan had checked out of the hotel and moved into a small hotel just around the corner from the point where Sheriff Holley's car was found, the name of the hotel being unknown to the Indianapolis police.

The peace officers at Hamilton have stated they had covered the relatives of the Hootens and had also ascertained that the Hootens had moved from 105 Lawn Avenue, Hamilton, to parts unknown.

Agents' inquiry at a local filling station operated on Lawn Avenue elicited the information that the Hootens had moved from the Lawn Avenue address about 2-1-34 using a Dodge truck to convey their furniture. It was not known as to where they had moved and this moving had taken place at night. Later it was ascertained through the Hamilton City Gas and Electric Company that the gas and electric current used by the Hootens at the Lawn Avenue address was billed in the name of the owner, who was a very old resident of Hamilton and bears a good reputation. The records of the Gas Company show that they have an old unpaid bill in the name of the Hootens.

Mrs. Malcolm K. Duncan,
469 Grand Avenue,
Dayton, Ohio.

Dear Madam:

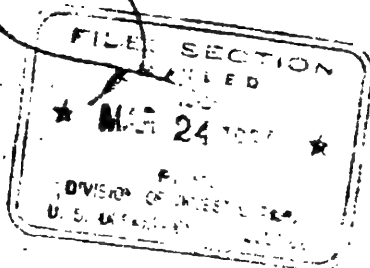

Please accept my thanks for your letter dated March 15, 1934, the contents of which have been noted with much interest.

It is noted that you refer to the recent reports that a motion picture will be made of John Dillinger, who recently escaped from the County Jail, at Crown Point, Indiana. While your comments are appreciated, I regret to advise that it would be impracticable to take any action in this matter in that it does not appear to involve a violation of the Federal Statutes within the investigative jurisdiction of this Division.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Director.

Mr. Duverney, Superintendent of Mails, New Orleans, Louisiana, was interviewed by agent and advised that Eddie Williams did not receive mail at General Delivery, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Investigation was made in the 600 and 700 blocks on North Rampart Street, and no such address as 732 or 733 was found.

Mrs. W. S. Palmer, rooming house operator at 734 North Rampart Street, could furnish no information concerning Eddie Williams or Mrs. Mary Anderson, reported to be his mother.

Mrs. Irene Brooks, at 736 North Rampart Street, was interviewed by agent and had no information concerning these parties.

Agent made inquiries in the neighborhood of drug stores and Eddie Williams and his mother, Mary Anderson, were unknown. A Mrs. Baby Anderson, address 1035 St. Peter Street, near the 700 block on North Rampart Street, was interviewed by agent and this was the only Anderson family located in this vicinity. She stated that she had no son by the name of Eddie Williams, that she was formerly Mrs. George Hixot.

Investigation at the Record Room and Identification Division of the New Orleans Police Department failed to develop a record or history on Eddie Williams.

Concerning reference letter, agent conducted investigation at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in an effort to locate [redacted] a former inmate of Leavenworth Penitentiary, and a friend of Mr. Nelson Spark, at present an inmate of Leavenworth Penitentiary, and husband of Evelyn Franchetti, alias Evelyn Franchette, alias Mitty, a barrower of subject John Wallinger.

There were several other letters from a Leavenworth Penitentiary inmate by the name of [redacted] and numerous other letters to the wife of [REDACTED], but none indicated any connection relative to John Dillinger, his associate, or the wife of Walton Spark, a paramour of subject John Dillinger.

[REDACTED] appeared cooperative in furnishing information, and advised that he had never seen the wife of Walton Spark, but had seen her photograph, and from description furnished him by Walton Spark he stated that she was a one-quarter breed Indian, drawing a pension from her home in Wisconsin, which approximated $15.00 per month, and from which she frequently forwarded money to Walton Spark at Leavenworth, Kansas Penitentiary. Relative to her present address, [REDACTED] advised that Walton Spark advised him that she was in Chicago or in Wisconsin. [REDACTED] advised that undoubtedly she could be located through Bob Cherrington or his wife who also is a friend of Mrs. Walton Spark and resides in Chicago, Illinois, and who is mentioned in the reference letter.

[REDACTED] furnished agent with points of his travel since his release from Leavenworth Penitentiary, and advised that he has been following the Walkathon Contest with his wife, whom he married at Jefferson City, Missouri, November 27, 1933, and concerning which marriage [REDACTED] has a Marriage Certificate. His wife was formerly [REDACTED] and her mother, [REDACTED].

Inasmuch as [REDACTED] alias [REDACTED] alias [REDACTED] were at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and Jackson, Mississippi, while John Dillinger was incarcerated at Crown Point, Indiana, they could not be subject John Dillinger, who escaped March 5, 1934. [REDACTED] advised that he first met these men at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and advised that they do not know Mr. or Mrs. Walton Spark or John Dillinger. [REDACTED] advised that he does not know John Dillinger, or any of his associates.

[REDACTED] is employed by [REDACTED] at a shoe shop at [REDACTED], Louisiana, where he receives his mail.

[REDACTED] has been requested to report to the New Orleans Division Office periodically relative to information he may secure from Walton Spark with references to the address of the wife of Spark.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

THE CHICAGO OFFICE: In the event Mrs. Walton Spark, alias Evalya Franchetti, mentioned in reference report has not been located, a [REDACTED] of or interview with Mrs. A. C. Cherrington, address 1844 North Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois, should be made, as her husband, Bob Cherrington, an inmate of Leavenworth Penitentiary, was sentenced from Chicago, Illinois, with Walton Spark.

THE CHICAGO OFFICE: Investigation at Shawano, Wisconsin, should likewise be made for history of Mrs. Welton Spark, with aliases, relative to checks paid to her under an Indian bequest for the purpose of securing her present address.

THE KANSAS CITY OFFICE: Is requested to ascertain through an indirect or direct inquiry of Welton Spark, an inmate of Leavenworth United States Prison where his wife secured a divorce from him on February 19, 1934, and the name and address of the attorney who handled her case for the purpose of her location. This investigation to be developed only in the event that the Chicago or St. Paul Division Offices do not have her present address.

Received your wire of January 11, 1934, and in reply advised you that the following information was furnished to the Bureau for questioning her. On December 26, 1933, an Essex Coupe, motor number 21102, 1933 model, was transferred to Miss Frechette by one Frank Birtley at Daytona Beach, Florida. The signature appearing on the Bill of Sale strongly indicates that Frank Birtley is identical with Millinger. Thereafter, Miss Frechette demolished this automobile in a wreck on her way to Shawano, Wisconsin, on January 13, 1934.

Escapes from Indiana State Prison

Dear Sir:

Referring to report of Special Agent F. J. Mullen, your office, dated March 8, 1934, in the above entitled matter, it will be noted on Page 11 that an undeveloped lead is set out for your office to locate Harry Copeland, alias Arthur S. Cherrington, a member of the so-called Dillinger Gang.

Please be advised that it will be noted in report of Agent Mullen dated 12/27/33 that this Harry Copeland was arrested by the Chicago Police Department on November 15, 1933, and on November 20 was turned over to the Warden of the Indiana State Penitentiary as a parole violator where he is now incarcerated.

It will be further noted in my letter of October 20, 1933, that Copeland as Arthur S. Cherrington purchased an Oldsmobile from the Shear Motor Sales Company at Chicago between the dates of September 8 and 15, 1933, under the name of Arthur S.

As stated in the telephonic conversation this morning, and Miss Turry, of Highland Park, visited the Indian Reservation at which Miss Froehette formerly resided in Wisconsin. Dear Sir:

Leipsic, Ohio
I know not where to leave this bit of information nor what it may be worth. But this P.M. while in a Local place I heard a young man from between here and Lima tell of a conversation taking place in his hearing between two other men one of them a Traveling Salesman, who said that an evening or two ago he slept in a Room adjoining the Room occupied by Miss Levy who is Atty from Indianapolis for the Dillinger Gang at a Hotel in Lima, O. The Salesman said that Miss Levy was so busy answering Phone calls that he did not get much sleep.

He overheard one answer in which Miss Levy should have addressed one by the name of John, advising him to stay out of Lima at this Time as it would be suicidal for him to be seen there.

Why could not that room be secured quietly by an U.S. Secret operator and used in an effort to Land John if he happens to be the much wanted John of Dillinger Gang outfit.

This is not done in hope for reward but just simply as an effort to help.

Yours truly,

Mr Homer Cummings

Dear Sir.

Kindly excuse this note, but am sending this to you direct not knowing who to trust. This is sent in all sincerity hoping it will help a little and trusting it will be held confidential, for many reasons, even to the name of the city, should it prove helpful. No doubt more than one life would be sacrificed should it amount to any thing. It could be quite possible that Dillinger is in Evanston, on Main St, upstairs in a hardware store a few doors west of the railroad on the south side of street. Some hard looking men seemed to have moved in there the latter part of last week. A man (an Indian) calls on them in an old Ford truck. This Indian, it has been said, is mixed up with gangsters, peddles "dope", but makes believe he runs some other business, he is located, on McCormick Blvd possibly near Tony Ave near a road-house, it has been said he is a dangerous man, his truck was a dark green, (plain) until recently when a name was painted on it some name such as catch basin, this information has been grasped in a peculiar way, and may not amount to anything, tell your men not to take this information to the Evanston Police, they may not get much assistance, if this proves helpful, more information may be forwarded as time goes on. This is written feeling there are still people who can be trusted. Now please give out no information as to the source of this letter, let your government men work this out and again please keep this confidential.

Very Sincerely

An American Girl.

Re: JOHN DILLINGER, with aliases, et al
National Motor Vehicle Theft Act
File 26-4755

On Friday, March 16, 1934, information was received from Port Huron, Michigan, to the effect that Herbert Youngblood had been shot at Port Huron, Michigan, that morning and that he was at that time in the hospital and was not expected to live long.

Upon your instructions to proceed to Port Huron immediately, agent departed from Detroit, arriving in Port Huron, Michigan, at 12:20 P.M., proceeding immediately to the Port Huron City Hospital. Agent immediately interviewed Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Arthur M. Mann, who was present at the hospital and he advised that Herbert Youngblood was still living and had been questioned by him. He stated that Youngblood had admitted that he had seen Dillinger and another man in Port Huron on the previous night at about 9:00 P.M. and that they were driving a black Ford V-8 Sedan. Mr. Mann stated that they were unable, however, to obtain any additional information from him, although he had been questioned continually from the time he had been brought to the hospital, which was about 9:30 A.M. until the time of agent's arrival. Mr. Mann advised agent that there could be no doubt that the negro that was in the hospital was identical with Youngblood; that on his way to the hospital in the ambulance he had told Deputy Sheriff Charles Lohrstorfer that his name was Herbert Youngblood and that if he died his body should be sent to 2565 Massachusetts Avenue, Gary, Indiana. Mr. Mann also stated that Trooper P. Hinckley, who is attached to the St. Clair Post of the State Police, had fingerprinted the negro and had definitely determined that he was identical with Herbert Youngblood.

Agent interviewed Herbert Youngblood and attempted to obtain some information from him with regard to the present whereabouts of John Dillinger. However, he was not inclined to talk and it was only after a great deal of questioning that he admitted to agent that he had seen Dillinger in Port Huron, Michigan, the previous evening at 9:00 P.M.; that Dillinger was accompanied by another man whom he did not know and that they were driving a black Ford V-8 Sedan. It is not known, however, how much credence can be placed on Youngblood's story as it is possible that this story may have been suggested by the questioning of the officers earlier in the morning. Youngblood refused to say where he had met Dillinger the previous night or where he was at the present time.

At about 1:20 P.M. Youngblood died as a result of the wounds that he had received. During the questioning of Youngblood, it was noted by agent that he bore a faint scar on his right cheek and that there was also another cut scar on the top of his right hand. His general description conformed to the description set out in the letter from the Cincinnati Office under date of March 13, 1934. It should also be stated here that he was positively identified by Captain Matt Leach of the Indiana State Police, who advised agent that he knew Youngblood; that he was a Police Lieutenant on the Gary, Indiana, Police Department several years ago, Gary, Indiana, being Youngblood's home.

Agent interviewed Sheriff William L. Van Antwerp and he advised that a colored man by the name of Eugene Field had, about five or six weeks ago, informed him that he could furnish information regarding a murder that had been committed north of Port Huron. He stated that Field was evidently sincere in coming to the Sheriff's Office but that, as a result of the information furnished by him, they drove to a number of places in the county where the murderer was supposed to be located but could never get any information concerning him and that at that time they felt that Field was mistaken.

That on Thursday, March 15, 1934, Field advised him that a colored man was living at the home of his mother, Pearl Abraham, who operates a rooming house and small grocery, that is connected to this rooming house, at 2925 Moak Street in the section of Port Huron known as the South Park, which section is known as the colored section of the city. Field advised that this man had arrived at their house the previous day and that he was carrying a gun and appeared to have quite a bit of money with him. He further advised that the man had made some statement or had insinuated in some way that he had escaped from some place but Field was unable to advise from what institution. The Sheriff stated that they did not place much faith in Field's story because of the previous dealings they had had with him nor did they connect the colored man with Youngblood. He advised, however, that on the morning of March 16, 1934, he and Under-sheriff Charles Cavanaugh, and Deputy Sheriffs Howard Lohr and Charles Lohrstorfer went to the home located at 2925 Moak Street to see this suspicious person. That on entering the home they were advised by Pearl Abraham that the man they had reference to had just started out of the house about five minutes prior to their arrival and that he might have gone into the grocery store that adjoined the house.

The Sheriff stated that he, Charles Cavanaugh, Howard Lohr and Eugene Field entered the grocery store and saw the negro, who had been described by Eugene Field, at the back of the store. This store is very small, being approximately 12 feet wide and 20 feet long.

That all three of the men went to the back of the store toward this unknown negro and Charles Cavanaugh asked the man if he wasn't a stranger in town. The negro replied that he wasn't a stranger; that he had lived on the north side of Port Huron several years ago. Cavanaugh then asked the man what his name was and he replied that his name was Jacobs. During this preliminary questioning, Cavanaugh noticed that the man had a gun on his left side in a holster and reached under the man's coat and grabbed the gun; that he turned to hand it to Deputy Sheriff Howard Lohr, who was on his right, and as he did so the negro backed up, drew a gun from his right hip pocket and started to shoot.

There are a number of versions as to just exactly what took place. The Sheriff claimed that he drew his gun and returned the negro's fire and that the Deputies also drew their guns and fired at the negro. He stated that during the shooting Lohr dropped the gun which Cavanaugh had taken from Youngblood, which was a nickel plated Smith & Wesson 38 Police Special, and that this was recovered by Eugene Field, who also started to fire at Youngblood. When the shooting was over, Youngblood was lying on the floor and it appears that he had received about six wounds.

Deputy Sheriff Howard Lohr and Under-sheriff Charles Cavanaugh also received a number of wounds, which are quite serious, and at the time agent departed they were not expected to recover. Sheriff William Van Antwerp and Eugene Field each received a shoulder wound which is not serious.

Agent, while at the Sheriff's Office, examined the guns of Sheriff William Van Antwerp, Under-sheriff Charles Cavanaugh and Howard Lohr, all of which were fully loaded and none of which appeared to have been shot, the barrels being clean. It appears, therefore, that Eugene Field was really the one that killed Youngblood with Youngblood's own gun.

The gun that was taken from Youngblood by Cavanaugh is a nickel plated Smith & Wesson 38 Caliber Special revolver, has a 6-inch barrel and bears #615951 on the butt of the gun, Chamber #33524. The gun that he used in firing at the officers and which he withdrew from his hip pocket is a Black Savage 32 Automatic and bears #258872.

Eugene Field was interviewed at the hospital and he advised that Youngblood came to their house about 4:00 P.M. on Wednesday, March 14, 1934. That he advised that he came to Port Huron from Detroit and was looking for work. He stated that Youngblood gave the name of Jacobs when he came to their house and that it was not until Wednesday evening that he had a talk with him, at which time he happened to see the gun that Youngblood carried and also noticed that Youngblood had what appeared to be a large roll of bills.

Trooper Hinckley advised, however, that a photographic copy of the fingerprints he had taken could be obtained from the Division of Identification at Lansing, Michigan, and he would personally request that this be done and a photographic set be forwarded to the Identification Unit of this Division.

The State Police, as well as the Sheriff's Office at Port Huron and Mount Clemens, Michigan, on the possibility that Dillinger may have been in Port Huron, have all roads leading from that city guarded and are stopping all cars coming from that city.

home he wore dark glasses and appeared to hang around the house all the time, only leaving the house for short periods of time, of only about 10 or 15 minutes duration, and that on these occasions he was usually accompanied by her son or Parks, one of her other roomers, and his trips were just for a short walk in the neighborhood. She advised that on Wednesday evening, the day he arrived, he retired at about 7:30 P.M.; that on Thursday night she attended a Bible class but returned to her home about 9:00 P.M. and that she was positive that he was in bed at that time. She stated that it would have been possible for him to retire early in the evening and get up later but, because of the fact that she is in very poor health and does not sleep soundly, she stated that she would have heard him if he had done this and, for this reason, does not feel that he left her home on Thursday night. This would seem to contradict the story he told while in the hospital to the effect that he had seen Dillinger on Thursday night about 9:00 P.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks, a white couple who reside at the Abraham home, were interviewed but could furnish very little information. Parks advised that he took walks with Youngblood but these walks were just around the neighborhood and that at no time did Youngblood ever contact anyone while in his presence. He stated that they never walked over two blocks from the house and were never gone over ten or fifteen minutes. Mr. and Mrs. Parks appear to be rather ignorant and might be classed as "White Trash."

The room in which Youngblood lived while in the Abraham home was searched by agent but nothing could be found in this room, which Pearl Abraham advised had been searched earlier in the day by the Police Department, Sheriff's Office and State Police.

Trooper P. Hinckley of the St. Clair Post of the Michigan State Police was interviewed by agent and advised that he had taken the fingerprints of Youngblood when he was first taken to the hospital; that they were classified by him and the classification was 15 21 W 100 15 .
28 W 101 15

He stated that he communicated with the Police Department at Gary, Indiana, and also the Crown Point jail and had verified this classification as being correct for Youngblood.

Accompanied by Trooper Hinckley, agent went to the Undertaking Parlors where Youngblood's body was taken and attempted to obtain another set of fingerprints. However, this was impossible because, as the undertaker stated, Youngblood had his fists clenched for some time before death and as rigor mortis had already set in, his fingers could not be straightened out without breaking them.

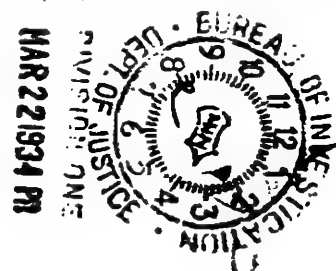

believe that he had escaped from some jail but that he did not question him in regard to this nor could he really be sure that Youngblood had told him that he escaped. He advised that because of the fact that this man had no baggage with him and had no working clothes, he became suspicious and notified the Sheriff's Office. He stated that during the time Youngblood stayed at their home he never had any visitors, that he very seldom went out of the house and that he at all times wore dark glasses and appeared to have his face darkened with some kind of paint. He advised that at no time to his knowledge was Youngblood ever absent from the home over five or ten minutes and, on these occasions, it was just for a short walk in the neighborhood with himself or with a man by the name of Parks, who also lives at his mother's home. He stated that he never heard Youngblood make any mention of Dillinger nor did he indicate in any way that he might have been connected with Dillinger. Eugene Field was unable to furnish any information which might be helpful in any way.

Pearl Abraham, who operates the rooming house and grocery store at 2925 Moak was interviewed. She advised that between three and four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Youngblood came to her home looking for a room; that he stated he had been advised she operated a rooming house but could not tell the name of the person who had sent him there. Pearl Abraham said that she suggested that it might be a certain neighbor of hers and Youngblood advised that it probably was the woman she had referred to. She stated that he advised her that his name was Jacobs and that he had just arrived in the city from Detroit, Michigan; that she questioned him regarding his home and he told her that he was born in California but left there when he was a small boy and that his home was in Ohio and that he had lived the greater portion of his life in Ohio; that he was single and that several years ago he had lived in Port Huron. Pearl Abraham asked him where he resided in Port Huron and he said he could not remember the street but it was in a different part of town. She then asked him if he had resided in the north end of town and he replied in the affirmative. She stated that at the time she had no reason to doubt him but she feels positive now that he had never resided in Port Huron before and that he had merely concurred in her suggestion that he possibly lived in the northern end of the town near a certain street. That he knew no one in Port Huron.

She stated, however, that the following day she became suspicious of him because of the fact that he had absolutely no baggage and she thought it strange that a person should be in Port Huron looking for work and not have some kind of working clothes. He appeared to have money with him and paid her $2.00 in advance. She also advised that on Thursday morning he asked her the directions to Detroit and she thought this quite strange as on the previous day he had told her that he had just recently come from Detroit,

Dear Sir:

Reference is had to Director's letter of March 14, 1934, with enclosure #691583.

Please be advised that I am not responsible for any part of the comment made in said article. I had also received a clipping similar to your enclosure and called same to Mr. Rorer's attention here, and at his suggestion, under date of March 9, 1934, I addressed a letter to Chief Anderson at Omaha, copy of which was furnished to the Division with the enclosure, and I quote my letter to Mr. Anderson:

"My attention has just been called to a newspaper item apparently taken from an Omaha newspaper, which is entitled "Anderson Scoffs at Idea Bandits May Be Omahans". I notice in that clipping that I am "credited" as having said, "I do not believe John Dillinger is responsible for the Sioux Falls bank holdup. I think the gang probably was from Sioux City, Iowa or Omaha, Nebraska".

"Just to let the record be straight, please be advised that no such item appeared any where in the Twin City papers and I have not made any statements of that kind to any newspaper representative. Regardless of the source of that article, all I can say is there is no basis to the words quoting me."

Re: JOHN DILLINGER, with aliases, I.O.#1217
National Motor Vehicle Theft Act

Dear Sir:

I am transmitting herewith a copy of a letter today sent to Brigadier General Bush at Lima, Ohio, who is in charge of a squad of National Guardsmen guarding the County Jail and officials in connection with the above entitled matter.

While at Lima last week, I was informed by General Bush that a threatening letter had been received by Prosecuting Attorney Ernest M. Botkin; that it had been handled by a number of people and finally sent to the Ohio State Identification Bureau at London, Ohio. General Bush informed me that arrangements had been made at Lima for him to receive questionable letters addressed to the Judge, the Prosecuting Attorney and other officials engaged in the trial of the above three men. Hence, it appears that he will always be the first person to open such letters.

I suggested that the letters be transmitted immediately to the Division at Washington for comparison with the fingerprints of John Dillinger, it being assumed that he might take it upon himself to write such a letter and arrangements were made to forward to General Bush a few cellophane envelopes for the above purpose. I also furnished him with a few manila envelopes in which to transmit the threatening letters to the Division.

Very truly yours,

Wm. Larson

September 24, 1933, he was residing with his wife, Violet, at 220 Surf Street. Crouch's wife at the present time is residing at the Burns Park Hotel, located at Burns and Broadway, Chicago, Illinois. He further stated that on September 8, 1933, he, together with Dillinger and a third party whose identity Crouch refuses to divulge, held up the Massachusetts Avenue Bank at Indianapolis, Indiana, and received approximately $20,000. Crouch insisted at all times that he had not the slightest idea as to the whereabouts of subject Dillinger, further claiming that after he and Dillinger separated after the bank robbery at Indianapolis on September 8th, he did not again see or come in contact with him. Crouch stated that with some of the proceeds of this bank robbery he came to Chicago and opened up two booze joints, which he stated turned out to be "white elephants" and he lost practically everything; that efforts have been made several times on his part to get in touch with Dillinger, Pierpont and other members of the Dillinger gang, which efforts were made prior to his arrest at Chicago, but without success. He stated that it later developed that four ex-convicts from the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City had endeavored to learn the whereabouts of Dillinger through him, claiming that these four ex-convicts were called Happy Miles, one Donovan, Jack Rowe, and Marty McGinnis. He stated that according to information he had received, these four were acting as "steel pigeons" for Captain John Stoge, Chicago Police Department, and that all of them were endeavoring to ascertain the whereabouts of Dillinger just prior to his arrest at Tucson, Arizona, and were leading him to believe that they expected to receive communications either by telephone or otherwise from Dillinger, Pierpont or some member of that gang; however, that they were using him at the same time to obtain information concerning Dillinger. He stated that the truth of the statement that he did not know where Dillinger was then can be verified through these four informants of Captain John Stoge; that he has since made efforts to get in touch with subject Dillinger through his mother; that his mother has left a note with Dillinger's father at Mooresville, Indiana, advising Dillinger to get in touch with John Burns, one of the escapees from Michigan City, Indiana, with Pierpont, Makely and the others, advising him, Burns, that a man by the name of Johns, who is serving a life sentence at Michigan City, will be called as a witness in connection with a murder trial to be held at Jonesboro, Indiana; that he is unable to mention the name of the subject to be tried at Jonesboro, but that the trial was originally set for Indianapolis, and that a change of venue was had to the Jonesboro Court. Crouch stated that in this connection, Burns and Johns are life long friends of subject Dillinger and that Dillinger is the only one who knows where Burns is. He stated that the purpose of this note or arrangement was for Dillinger to get in touch with Burns and if necessary assist Burns in the liberating of Johns when he appears at Jonesboro, Indiana, as a witness.

Crouch stated that whether or not Dillinger got this case he is unable to state at this time and he will not know until he receives a visit from his mother, which should probably be within the next few weeks.

The purpose of Crouch divulging this information to Deputy Warden Schumhl and this Agent is that Crouch is making efforts to be placed in a certain line of work, possibly that of draftsman, assisting or taking part in the construction of various buildings within the prison walls at Michigan City. He promised to divulge any information he receives from his mother concerning this matter to Deputy Warden Schumhl, who in turn advised Agent that he would communicate with him immediately upon receipt of same. Deputy Warden Schumhl further advised Agent that he will keep in constant contact with Crouch and will give this information which Crouch divulges in considering the granting of his request to be placed in the line of work in which he is particularly interested at the Penitentiary. Crouch stated that it is almost a sure bet that he will be able to ascertain where Dillinger makes contact from time to time or visits.

The report of reference sets out that Sam Goldstein who is at the present time incarcerated at the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City for violation of his parole is a man who will under no circumstances divulge any information concerning Dillinger; that on May 9, 1931, Goldstein was received there on a charge of assault and battery in attempt to commit felony, on a sentence of two to eleven years; that on this charge he was paroled on May 29, 1933; that on September 2, 1933, he was returned as a parole violator; that subject Dillinger was paroled from the Michigan City Penitentiary on May 23, 1933, and on September 24, 1933, he was incarcerated in the County Jail at Lima, Ohio; that between the time that both Dillinger and Goldstein were out until the time of the return of Goldstein to the Michigan City Penitentiary, Goldstein and Dillinger were together a good deal; that the pictures of Goldstein and Dillinger, who used the alias of Donovan, were positively identified by a woman who operated a roominghouse in one of the towns in the Northwestern section of Indiana. Mr. Schumhl stated that he did not have the information as to just who this woman was; that regardless of this identification Goldstein insisted that he knew nothing concerning Dillinger or his operations. However, Mr. Schumhl suggested that before Goldstein be interviewed, Agent obtain the facts and familiarize himself thoroughly with them, because he knows that it would be only wasting time and would put Goldstein on his guard if he were to be interviewed without Agent having these facts. Mr. Schumhl stated that all of this information was in possession of Matt Leach, the head of the Indiana State Police at Indianapolis, Indiana. In view of this suggestion on the part of Mr. Schumhl, interview with

In connection with the smuggling of guns into the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City, Indiana, which guns were used in the escape of Pierpont, Barker, Clark and the rest on September 25, 1933, Mr. Schmuhl stated that the true facts as to how the guns were smuggled into the Penitentiary were obtained from Walter Detrick, who has been recaptured and is now in solitary confinement at the Penitentiary. He stated that it occurred in this manner: That the guns smuggled in were .38 calibre automatics; that a large carton of thread was purchased from the American Thread Company in Chicago, which was consigned to the Gordon East Coast Shirt Company in the Indiana State Penitentiary, Michigan City, Indiana; that this purchase of thread was made by one Omar Brown of Muncie or Kokomo, Indiana; that the arrangements for the purchase of this thread and the smuggling of the guns into the prison were made by Omar Brown and Harry Pierpont; that after the purchase of this thread was made the carton was opened and the three guns with slings attached thereto and one extra clip for each of the guns were packed in the middle of this carton of thread; that the package was then relabeled as coming from the East Coast Thread Company, address unknown, and was received at the Penitentiary on Friday afternoon, September 22, 1933; that Omar Brown is suspected of being in constant touch with various hoodlums throughout the State of Indiana, but from outward appearances he has the reputation of being a respectable business man, owning and operating two motion picture theatres in either Muncie or Kokomo, Indiana; that he, Mr. Schmuhl, did not know his exact address, but stated also that Matt Lopez of the Indiana State Police at Indianapolis had this information and also had information as to Omar Brown's address.

The only information on file at the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City with respect to a former convict being in the employ of the Reliance Shirt Company was a man by the name of Hardy, whose present address is 609 West Main Street, Anamosa, Iowa; that this is the address of one of the institutions for the State of Iowa; that he is suspected to be in the employ of the Reliance Shirt Company there, but inasmuch as the guns were shipped in a carton of thread purchased in Chicago, no lead or further investigation in connection with this was made at Anamosa, Iowa, as being set out. Agent right and at this time that the information originally obtained was that the guns were shipped in in packages of shippers used in the manufacture of shirts at the Indiana State Penitentiary, and it was thought at first that information could be obtained from the various ex-convicts who have been released from the Penitentiary and are now in the employ of the Reliance Shirt Company.

In accordance with the lead set out in the report of Special Agent J. J. McCallre, dated March 15, 1935, Agent at Kenosha, Wis., Soncin, interviewed Raymond Gleason, whose half-sister is the wife of Elmer Hamilton, brother of John Hamilton, who is one of the escapees from Michigan City, Indiana, and who is thought to be in company with Dillinger at this time. Raymond Gleason is a police officer attached to the Kenosha, Wisconsin, Police Department. He stated that he is not on very friendly terms with his half-sister, Elmer Hamilton's wife, and Elmer Hamilton, giving as his only reason that they are constantly making efforts to borrow money from him and that when they did he always had a good deal of trouble in getting it back. He did state, however, that within the past ten days or two weeks he did run into his half-sister and Elmer Hamilton on the streets of Kenosha, at which time he talked to them for a moment or two; that Elmer Hamilton at that time expressed the opinion that John Hamilton is still alive and he believes he is hiding out some place. Gleason further volunteered the information that John Hamilton's wife, who is now dead, ran away with about $400.00 of John Hamilton's money; that she disappeared entirely and later found that she left at home two boys, one age 12 or 14 and one about 16 years old; that after this happened John Hamilton created a trust fund for his two children; that the children are living with his wife's mother at Toledo, Ohio; that he did not know the address of her mother, or the name, but from information obtained by Agent at the Indiana State Penitentiary, John Hamilton's mother-in-law's name is Stevenson and she resides at 1908 East Bancroft Street, Toledo, Ohio. He is unable to state just where this trust fund for the two sons of John Hamilton was created, but stated that it was at a bank at Toledo, Ohio, where it had been created through Claude Hamilton, John Hamilton's brother, who is in the real estate business in Cleveland, Ohio, address unknown. He stated that Elmer Hamilton's daughter was very recently released from the hospital at Kenosha, Wisconsin, where she was operated on for a mastoid; that Elmer Hamilton has not been working for the past few years, only now and then, and that he, Gleason, knows that the hospital bill was over $200, and that Elmer Hamilton and his wife claim that they have paid over $125.00 of this bill. Gleason stated that he had not the slightest idea where they might have gotten the money to pay the bill, unless it would possibly be through John Hamilton, or through a niece of the Hamiltons who resides at or near Milwaukee. Mr. Gleason stated that he did not know the name of this niece or that of her husband, but that they were supposed to be wealthy. From the mailing list of John Hamilton obtained at the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City, there is listed as a niece a woman named Margaret, last name unknown, who resides at 1752 South 58th Street, West Allis, Wisconsin. West Allis is a suburb of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He stated

Further that Elmer Hamilton has been making frequent trips to Madison, Wisconsin, but that what his purpose was at whom he contacted was unknown to Mr. Gleason. However, it is Agent's opinion that it may be for the purpose of receiving mail there in care of the Post Office at Racine.

During the conversation several days ago at Michigan City, Indiana with Edward Shouse, a convict there and former member of the Dillinger gang before his, Shouse's, recapture, Shouse casually mentioned the name of Homer. Agent thought that he had reference to Homer Van Meter. While at Kenosha, Wisconsin, Agent learned that during the bank robbery by subject Dillinger, Pierpont and the rest of that gang on November 27, 1933, one Leslie Homer was a member of the Dillinger gang who pulled that job. Leslie Homer has been apprehended and is now serving a twenty-nine year sentence in the Wisconsin State Penitentiary at Waupun, Wisconsin. Agent learned that Homer was supposed to have been the contact man on this bank job at Madison, Wisconsin and to have laid out the plans, etc., for the job, and is the only one of the entire mob that is being punished at this time in connection with this robbery. It is Agent's opinion that possibly if Leslie Homer be interviewed some information as to the possible hangouts of Dillinger, Hamilton and that crowd and their contacts might be learned. Lieutenant Schnieberger in charge of the Detective Bureau of the Kenosha Police Department, advised Agent that he will see what additional information can be obtained from Ray Gleason from time to time, and suggested that Agent contact him again, possibly within the next ten days or so.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

THE CINCINNATI DIVISION OFFICE at Indianapolis, Indiana, will contact Matt Leach of the Indiana State Police, and from him obtain what information he has concerning the connection between Sam Goldstein, now in the prison at Michigan City, Indiana, and Dillinger, forwarding same to the Chicago Division Office, so that Sam Goldstein may be interviewed. From Matt Leach will also obtain what information he has concerning Omar Brown's address. No doubt at this time Matt Leach has caused a further investigation to be made in connection with Omar Brown, and if this is the case, and he still divulge information obtained as a result of same, obtain all possible information as may have secured through Omar Brown in connection with the Dillinger escape. Will also find out from Captain Matt Leach what information he has concerning the purchase and shipment of thread to the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City in which shipment were contained three guns and ammunition used by Pierpont and the others in their escape.

THE DETROIT DIVISION OFFICE, at Detroit, Mich., will conduct investigation for the purpose of obtaining information, if possible, through John Hamilton's contacts, concerning his present whereabouts, as it is believed that John Hamilton and subject Billinger are together at this time. If no information is obtained there, it is suggested that similar information be obtained if possible through John Hamilton's brother Claude, who is in the real estate business in Cleveland, Ohio.

THE CHICAGO DIVISION OFFICE, after information is received concerning the shipment referred to purchased from the American Thread Company at Chicago, will contact officials of the American Thread Company, if this is necessary.

At Waukegan, Wisconsin, will interview Leslie Hovey, who is incarcerated there at this time, for any information he may divulge as to the possible whereabouts or contacts of subject Billinger.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

When I arrived in Florida from Arizona, I told Mother of the conversations with "Chick", then she told me that what he had said to me was true, namely: That he used to live where Mother lived. It develops that when Mother, Mrs. M. E. Gannon, was working in Jacksonville, Florida, for the Internal Revenue Department, one of the agents, a Mr. Hubler doublecrossed the Department and was sent to Atlanta for three years. I described the man with Chick to Mother, adding that "he had a peculiar walk which made one think he would start skipping any minute". Mother said, "Yes, that is Hubler for he had a peculiar twitch when he walked. Mother also told me that she was the one who reported Hubler - - this explains one reason why they phoned my mother over long-distance, as well as sent her air mail letters, telling her to send my brother for me as I was "demented - suffering from delusions of persecution". Anyway, they were very anxious to get me out of the Hotel Hassayampa and Prescott.

The enclosed picture of John Dillinger is the ~~same~~ ^{brother} of Jack Cameron, though it is not Jack. However, he has a brother, M. Clyde, 30 years old who has been in Tucson since last November or December. They claim to be originally from ~~Cliff Davis~~ ^{Cliff Davis} DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Regarding the "Mrs. Dillinger" and her chanting mentioned in one of the enclosed clippings: One day, another woman with them, Jane Barrett, brought a "Mrs. Hopkins" to my room to introduce her. Inasmuch as Miss Barrett is a nurse, and not one whom I would choose as an associate, I thought it strange that she should introduce her. I inquired where Mrs. Hopkins was from and she remarked "Indiana". The Mrs. Hopkins was the one who did most of the talking over radio to me - she would talk a while, then start chanting, later going off into incoherent talk. Then Chick would try and stop her. She would make a fine subject for a hypnotist, because she would repeat out loud your thoughts. She was tall, rather slender, wore dark clothes, and a short brown fur jacket. She was a brunette.

About the airplane, which one paper stated was seen flying over the prison before Dillinger escaped: Cliff Davis of Prescott, ~~and~~ an unlicensed pilot, owns two. On the 4th and 5th of February, a friend of mine, Jack McDaniel, tried to get Cliff Davis to fly us to Agua Caliente, Mexico, and return for $90.00 and expenses. He kept putting us off, saying some painting had to be done, and also that he had partly agreed to make another trip in an emergency. He didn't take us, but in the course of conversation, he remarked that his new plane was equipped with both a broadcasting and receiving

Inasmuch as Dillinger used logic in getting out of Crown Point, why does it sound unreasonable that he would use logic and retrack back to Arizona, feeling that no one would look for the gang there?

From all that I have learned since returning to Florida, and three letters which I have read which were addressed to Mother, I am satisfied that Dillingers gang and the Florida wiretappers are the very gang which is at present in Prescott, Arizona.

Chick's mistake was in forcing me to admit that I recognized him. The first day he got to the Hassayampa - a day or two after the Tucson arrests - he registered and I saw him, but went blank and did not speak. It must have gotten on his nerves, because the night of February 7th, he phoned and asked if I knew who it was. I told him yes, that I recognized his voice and knew he was Chick, but that I purposely did not speak to him because I knew what he had been doing in the past and assumed he was doing the same now. The entire crowd had actually pestered me so long and so persistently, insisting that I was after them, that I finally told Jack Cameron he had talked on the subject so long that I was beginning to get suspicious of them.

Of course, I know women have no business intruding in an affair of this kind, but it has gone so far that I am fed up on it. If it will be possible to see you in Washington, I will be glad to go to the expense of making the trip there in an effort to give you all the information I have acquired from different sources.

One thing that burns me up is some of the vicious lies they told my Mother and Brother in Prescott. I don't care what they say about me, but I do resent them talking about my folks.

If you have a picture of John Hamilton, may I have a copy of it? I will keep it strictly confidential.

Mr. Hoover, I would not have written this letter had it not been for the fact that today's paper stated that the Department of Justice had taken the case entirely.

Sincerely and respectfully,

Police Believe Dillinger May Be in Chicago

call Blunk and then went down to "bail" to bring the other prisoner from the corridor to be captured.

But Not Know Layout

Blunk said Dillinger did not know the jail layout or the town and obtained from the captured deputies information as to where the machine guns were kept and other data needed.

Thus he broke out of the "escape proof" jail guarded against every possibility save that the prize prisoner, awaiting trial for the slaying of an East Chicago policeman, would walk out unassisted.

Of the assortment of deputies, vigilantes, and national guardsmen Dillinger took prisoner, only two said they opposed the desperado when he took command of the jail. Calhoun who was first taken prisoner, called the next victim, Deputy Blunk, but refused to call more. Blunk then obliged, at the point of Dillinger's play-pistol.

A trusty whose name was not announced almost became the hero of the day, said Judge Murray. When he was taken prisoner, he grabbed Dillinger's arm, but he released it when the gunman said, "I'll kill you."

The guards who answered Dillinger's invitation to come back through the long corridor thought that Blunk was having trouble with the jail doors, they explained to the authorities as the investigations go under way.

Dillinger Made 'Gun' Look Like Real Weapon

CROWN POINT, Ind., March 4.—(A.P.)—Further details of the way John Dillinger fashioned the wooden gun which brought him freedom from jail here were disclosed today by authorities.

Two blue steel safety razor blades, a piece of transparent, the handle of the safety razor and some thick wire which were the components of the weapon.

"He put the razor blades along the brown handle to make it realistic," said Judge Murray. "He used the other piece of the razor to make the trigger."

The wooden handle was decorated with the pattern to simulate the side of an automobile.

Authorities believed one more night had given Dillinger the "break" which made his escape possible. A trusting guard to enter the hallway and other prisoners kept their calls before entering the corridor of the cell block in which they were sleeping yesterday morning.

So with his "gun" Dillinger overawed some 30 persons and was enabled to seize two real weapons—the jail's only machine guns.

Dillinger Henchmen Hope for Delivery

LIMA, Ohio, March 4.—(A.P.)—Three henchmen of John Dillinger wore their best suits all day today hopefully awaiting the arrival of the fugitive to deliver them from jail. But Dillinger failed to arrive.

Deputies at the jail where Sheriff Barber was shot to death last fall in a previous exhibition of Dillinger's contempt for prisons, were quick to note the changed dispositions of Harry Pierpont, Charles Makley and Russell Clark, held here for the Barber murder.

The prisoners heard a scanty report of the gang leader's fantastic departure from custody over a radio in the sheriff's office. Then came a rumor that Dillinger was near New Stark not far from Lima.

The three immediately discarded the pajamas in which they had been lounging and put on street clothes which they had been allowed to keep in their cells.

With Dillinger on the loose again, his pals' outlook has changed. They dropped the sour, forlorn expression which they have displayed since being brought here and apparently felt that a stroke in the form of a special Dillinger jail delivery was at hand.

Dillinger here was said to agree that before long Dillinger will make an appearance here.

The jail here has been transformed into something of a fortress and national guardsmen have taken over the courthouse while they can train machine guns on anyone who attempts to enter the building from whatever direction.

Sandbags weighing a ton have been thrown against the front door of the sheriff's residence on the inside, minimizing the possibility that someone might dash past the range of three machine guns and attempt to rush the door.

POLICE BELIEVE DILLINGER MAY BE HIDING IN CHICAGO AREA

No Trace Found of Dep- arado Who Escaped From Jail

CHICAGO, March 11.—Associated Press.—Police and prison officers of Illinois today are searching for desperado John Dillinger today as it doubts edged heavily toward the circumstances of his sensational escape.

A sudden eruption of reports of reported sightings of the man which Dillinger and his pal, Herbert Youngblood, were commended for their flight, led to a suspicion that they might have drifted back to a Chicago hideaway.

Acting on this theory, more than a dozen of police squads combed known criminal hangouts. During the day details from the detective bureau and the state attorney's office searched for the traces of the paroled desperado. They sought all underworld connections known to have had dealings with Dillinger or other members of the gang he headed.

At Crown Point, investigators for Governor McNutt of Indiana headed by Attorney General Lutz started questioning deputies and witnesses on all angles of the escape. Rumors of a possible "fix" engaged the attention of the authorities.

At the same time Prosecutor Estill of Lake county said he would turn over to the grand jury the results of the inquiry he inaugurated after yesterday's escape.

Woman Sought

A sharp eye was being kept by police for a "Mrs. Dillinger," the mysterious woman who was permitted by a Crown Point judge to visit Dillinger in the jail less than two weeks ago. The sheriff's office at Crown Point had protested the outlaw did not have a wife but the woman was finally admitted for a half hour's conversation with Dillinger in his cell.

Some authorities professed to believe the escape—fantastic in its execution by means of a makeshift wooden gun—was planned at that meeting. Police theorized the woman was an associate of John Hamilton, Dillinger's pal, who the outlaw was quick to proclaim dead after his own return from Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 30. Police have consistently refused to believe that Hamilton was slain as Dillinger asserted and declared that Dillinger and the negro accused of a Gary murder, probably made for a junction with Hamilton as soon as they had thrown pursuers off the trail.

Clue Blasted

One promising clue which developed last night when a car answering the description of the one in which Dillinger and Youngblood fled went into the ditch near El Paso, Ill., was blasted today. Sheriff Piser said today the two men who fled into a cornfield after the accident escaped license and a description of it was forwarded to Ohio authorities for checking there.

Precautions throughout the four-state area in which Dillinger's gang operated before his capture in the southwest were continued everywhere by authorities but Chicago police believed this vicinity offered the best prospects for clues now.

Sheriff Defends Guards

Sheriff Lillian Holley was quick to defend her guards against any imputation of culpability in the escape.

"I'd do the same thing if some one put a gun in my back" said the woman sheriff, still almost in tears over the successful carrying out of the outlaw's boast that he would get free.

"I intended to take good care of Dillinger. I thought it would be a big

DILLINGER'S AUTO FOUND IN CHICAGO

Gang's Old Haunts in City Being Searched

CHICAGO, March 5.—(AP)—Police officers here today began the search for the Dillinger gang's old haunts in the city. The officers are looking for the gang's old hideout in the city.

Three squads of officers were keeping a day and night watch at the apartment, with orders to shoot to kill if Dillinger showed up.

Sweeps Into Action

The re-mobilized "Dillinger" squad swept into action to search the northwest section of the city, where the desperado had a chain of hideouts when he was last at liberty from the law.

Police believed Dillinger must have fled the city, after he was last seen at Peotone, Ill., Saturday and entered through the swanky suburbs on the less closely-guarded north.

A mysterious "Mrs. Dillinger" today re-entered the case of the restless desperado and the soft-pine revolver—with which he bluffed his way out of jail. Crown Point officials, in the course of four investigations into Dillinger's break, already had disclosed a brunette who said she was the gunman's wife had been allowed to visit him in his cell.

Gangster's Sweetheart

Jail attaches today looked at pictures and said with surprise that "Mrs. Dillinger" resembled Elaine Burton—sweetheart of another Dillinger gangster, John Hamilton. If they are the same, authorities believed, Dillinger must have been in communication with his gang while in the Crown Point prison.

Sheriffs recalled that Mrs. Dillinger's visit on at least one occasion carried on a strange "rant" in which she mingled affectionate phrases with what sounded like football signals.

Agent Waters ascertained at Shawano, Wisconsin, that Evelyn Frechette, an alleged associate of Dillinger, had moved from the Indian Reservation approximately five years ago and it was expressed that she had gone to Chicago to work as a domestic and had returned to Neopit intermittently during that time. She was at one time married to Melton Sparks, presently incarcerated at Leavenworth for robbing the mail. Rumors at Shawano indicated that at various times during the past suspicious characters, presumably from Chicago, had stayed there and had loitered particularly at Shawano Lake. Subsequent inquiry at the lake revealed that no suspicious characters, or as a matter of fact, no one known to the local residents had visited the lake this winter.

Superintendent Beyer of the Indian Agency at Neopit, in addition to the information contained in the letter quoted above, informed the Agent that sometime in January Evelyn Frechette lived in Neopit. He stated further, that Evelyn has a very bad reputation on the reservation, although he knew of nothing definite to substantiate this allegation. He stated that Vivian Tourtillett Warrington was a close associate of Evelyn's.

The possibility of Dillinger seeking refuge on the reservation was discussed with Beyer and he stated that informants throughout the reservation would immediately communicate to the Agency any suspicious activities or the presence of any strangers unknown to the Indians.

At Neopit, Simon Beauprie, the Indian Chief of Police stated that in the summer of 1933, while Evelyn was visiting in Neopit, some person in a large automobile called for her and she went away with him. He added, further, that when Evelyn visits in Neopit she resides with Vivian Warrington and rarely visits her mother, who has re-married and whose present name is Sprague. Vivian is married to Joseph Warrington and apparently both of them bear a good reputation on the reservation.

The Chief of Police had no further information but gave Agent Waters a photograph of Vivian Warrington, which is being retained in the Chicago file.

Vivian Harrington was interviewed on three successive days and during the course of each interview, with the exception of the last day, she was fully reluctant to furnish any information concerning Evelyn. She gave, however, the following facts:

She and Evelyn Fredette have been closely associated with each other since the time of their attending school at the Reservation, that Evelyn left for Chicago 5 or 6 years ago, where she has been employed as a waitress since that time. On various occasions she has returned to Neopit, but on each visit stayed with the Harringtons rather than with her mother. Evelyn's mother has re-married, and the name of her present husband is Sprague. She stated that she has heard from Evelyn regularly, but had not saved any of the letters which were received from her. She at first informed the Agent that she did not recall the address at which Evelyn resided in Chicago, but on being pressed further, she stated she believed it to be either 501 or 503 Addison Street, Chicago. Subsequent inquiry developed that the correct address is 501 Addison Street. She further advised that Evelyn has a sister named Frances, who is employed either as a waitress or a domestic in Chicago. She related that in 1933, she, Vivian, underwent several operations, and in April of that year, her husband sent for Evelyn to come to Neopit, which the latter did. She remained until July, when she returned, apparently to Chicago. In September of the same year, Evelyn with her sister Frances, came back to Neopit, but both of them again, after a short time, departed for Chicago.

Mrs. Harrington turned over to the Agent a photograph of Evelyn which she requested to be returned to her, and two snapshots, one of Evelyn alone, and another containing pictures of Evelyn, Vivian and a third party having no connection with this investigation. The photograph and the snapshot containing the pictures of three girls have been forwarded to the Division with the request that copies be made and discharged to Division offices. Mrs. Harrington stated that during the past year or so she has received cards or letters from Evelyn, mailed from Mexico, Florida, Arizona and Kansas. She stated that in the fall of last year Evelyn and some unknown man, she was with, had visited Evelyn's brother, Howard at Haskell Institute, and that on the occasion of this visit the man who was with Evelyn gave her another son of Henry. A letter has been sent to the Kansas City office requesting that appropriate inquiry be made concerning this visit.

It was also learned that one, Vivian Lane, a former resident of Neopit, now employed at an Indian Agency located at Tucson, Arizona, known Evelyn Prosser, and that in the probability if she were involved with Billings, that the latter was taken into custody at Tucson, Jerome Lane would have made some inquiry relative thereto. A letter has been forwarded to the Los Angeles office requesting that appropriate inquiry be made with regard to this angle. Vivian stated also that Evelyn has no aunt, she is married to one, Frank Bauler, an officer on the Chicago Police Force.

On returning to question Vivian the following day, her husband was present, and she was asked specifically whether anyone had called for Evelyn in large automobiles from Chicago. She stated that to the best of her recollection about two years ago a man who was called Olie, obviously a Swede, age about 35 years, came to Neopit arriving about 5 o'clock in the morning. With him came Evelyn and her sister Frances. Evelyn remained at the Harrington's while Olie and Frances went to the home of the latter's mother. They remained a short time when they returned to Chicago. In the fall of 1932 she stated that a man by the name of Al, who she described as being short, age 35, and bald-headed, dark complexion, came to Neopit with Evelyn, and when they arrived they were both intoxicated. They again remained only a short time and left for Chicago.

Miss Harrington volunteered the information that Evelyn is strongly addicted to intoxicating liquor, and is under the influence of intoxicants at every opportunity. Subsequent investigation seemed to corroborate this statement. On each occasion of the visits, both Vivian and her husband failed to see the type of automobile in which Evelyn had been transported. It having been previously determined that an Auburn sedan had stopped at the Harrington's, she and her husband were questioned with respect thereto. She admitted that this car belonged to friends of theirs from Highland Park, Michigan. She stated that the owner's name was Miles Burpy. The Detroit office was requested by telephone to check this angle.

Inquiry at Neopit revealed that when telegrams are received in that town, they are generally forwarded to one, Kate Larkin. Inquiry at this place revealed that some time in January a telegram had been forwarded to Evelyn Prosser, and the same returned to the home of the Harrington's and returned Miss Harrington, in the absence of her husband, that it would be necessary for her to disclose the contents of the telegram, as otherwise her escape to Milwaukee, where Evelyn could be easily known to him. She stated she did not remember the contents of the telegram, but believed it to have been sent to Mrs. Ann Jackson, stating that it contained information.

"Wire where I can call you at 8 P.M. Important."

Later investigation at the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Shawano showed, however, that a telegram on January 13th had been forwarded to Evelyn Prochaska from Mrs. Ann Jackson, 75 East Windamer Street, Highland Park, Michigan. A copy of the telegram was not available, but the manager at the Western Union office confidentially informed Agent that to the best of his recollection, it contained the following:

"Meet me at 75 East Windamer Street, Highland Park, Michigan at once. Very important."

that Evelyn wired back:

"Received your wire but cannot understand. Will meet you at 201 Addison Street."

It was learned from Mrs. Harrington that Evelyn departed for Chicago on the following day. She also stated that she had received a wire from Evelyn some time in December from Chicago, requesting her, Vivian, and her husband to meet her in Shawano. The meeting was to take place on New Year's Eve. Evelyn, however, met with an accident at Port Washington, and her car was demolished. She, however, did not sustain serious injury. She proceeded to Shawano, where she remained for about a week, telling Vivian that her "boy friend" had given her the car. On January 7th, Evelyn and Vivian left Neopit for Milwaukee, where Evelyn purchased another car, trading in the wrecked car and paying the bill in cash.

During the course of the investigation, the Agent talked to Evelyn's stepfather, whose name is Edwin Sprague, and later visited his home in the presence of Chief of Police, Shawano. With the consent of Mr. Sprague, the Chief of Police searched the premises and found postcard sent to Evelyn's mother by her from Tucson, Arizona sometime in December. The date, however, is indistinct. This postcard is being retained in the files of the Chicago office.

On the following day Evelyn's mother called on the Agent and during periodic bursts of hysteria, stated that she feared her daughter would be electrocuted or shot, and that she wanted to do everything in her power to attempt to locate her. It is the Agent's impression that she was sincere in her desires, and she promised to communicate immediately with the Chief of Police of Neopit should she ever get any information from Evelyn. She stated that she did not recall any of the letters forwarded to her by Evelyn, but said that she receives money from her occasionally, and that during the Christmas holidays, 1935, Evelyn sent money not only for her, but for other members of the family as well. She said she has another daughter, Frances, who lives at 1115 North Barnhart Avenue, Chicago, while a second daughter is married, whose name is Mrs. Anna Wilson and resides at Neopit. An interview with the latter developed nothing further than that she had received a letter from some town in Tennessee in December, which had been mailed by Evelyn, and in which there was enclosed a sum of money as a Christmas present.

Malvin Edgar Fairbanks, a half-breed Indian and reputed childhood sweetheart of Evelyn, was interviewed several times in an attempt to elicit some information of value. He was reluctant, however, to answer questions, and further efforts were not made to obtain any information from him. It was quite obvious that he does not relish Evelyn's conduct in recent months, but at the same time he was unwilling to furnish any damaging information in the event he possessed it, concerning her.

Mrs. E. Bowersdorff, Manager of the Jackson Hotel, North Jackson Street, Milwaukee, on being interviewed, stated that she remembered Evelyn Fredetta and Vivian Harrington, having registered there in January, and an examination of the records showed that the above two persons had registered from Neopit, Wisconsin, January 8, 1936, had been assigned to Room 201, and had checked out January 10th. They checked in again January 10th, and left the hotel January 11th. There were no telegrams or telephone calls charged to them, with the exception of one local call, the number of which was not retained, but which, in all probability, was made in connection with the purchase of the automobile hereinafter discussed. On both occasions they occupied room 201, and Mrs. Bowersdorff stated that there was nothing about their conduct during the period of their occupancy to arouse suspicion. She stated that Evelyn appeared on both days to have indulged in intoxicants.

Mr. H. B. Goulard, 120 North Jackson Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, retail sales manager for the Hudson Motor Distributors, after referring to his records, stated that he had sold a 1935 Buick coupe to Evelyn Frechette on January 5th for $3850.00. The transaction was completed under the following circumstances:

A telephone call had been received from Miss Frechette by Goulard, informing him that her car had been wrecked at Fort Washington, and she requested that he give her an estimate on it as a deposit for a new car. After one of the salesman looked at the car, he offered her $175.00 for it, which was accepted, and she paid a balance of $220.00 in cash. With her at the time of the purchase was Vivian Harrington, whom Goulard identified from a photograph, which Agent exhibited to him. He stated that the car which was wrecked in was a Wisconsin Buick, 1935 model, serial number 70921, motor number 1113, which had been purchased by one Frank Kirtley, 2738 Pine Grove Avenue, Chicago, from the Logan Square Hudson Essex Company, 2506 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago. The salesman was J. H. Cizek, and the purchase price was $213.95, which, according to Goulard, was a cash transaction. The title to this car had been transferred by Kirtley to Miss Evelyn Frechette, December 26, 1935 at Daytona Beach, Florida, and the bill of sale was notarized before D. R. Beach at that time. Which bore Illinois tag number 187241. These tags were also on the car at the time it was wrecked by Miss Frechette. This car had been purchased by Kirtley on November 23, 1935. The 1932 Buick sedan which Miss Frechette obtained in Milwaukee on January 5th, bore serial number 25001, motor number 16532, and Goulard informed Agent that he had later ascertained that a man by the name of Denhardt, a salesman representing a distributor in St. Louis, had taken this car on a trade-in approximately one week after it had been purchased at Milwaukee. Miss Frechette, after receiving the title to the car in Milwaukee, obtained 1934 Wisconsin plates number 25001, and Goulard stated that these plates were found on Willinger's car when he was apprehended in Tucson, Arizona.

On Sunday, March 12, 1936, a telephone call was received at the Chicago office from a person who gave his name as Gregory, 1910 North Rosley Avenue. He stated he stated that he had just seen Willinger's Buick sedan which he described as being on Halsted Street, just North of Fullerton Parkway. He further described the house as being on the East side of Halsted Street and that it was surrounded by the first picket fence on that side of the street.

Under the direction of Special Agent in Charge, the following several agents proceeded to the vicinity of the residence of the subject, and in the presence of the subject, several persons were entering and leaving a small building immediately adjacent to the house which appeared to be a garage or workshop. The subject was observed to enter the building and was observed to be engaged in some activity with a person who appeared to be a woman. The subject was observed to be engaged in some activity with a person who appeared to be a woman. The subject was observed to be engaged in some activity with a person who appeared to be a woman.

The telephone company in Chicago was requested to check the bill calls of South Shore 22153 for the period of January 1, 1934 to the present time and they reported that the following calls had been made over this phone:

At Gary, Indiana Special Agent T. E. Mallen ascertained that telephone number 44164 is subscribed to by Earl McNabb, 158 Colum Park Avenue, who is a Superintendent at the Steel Mills and who spent sixteen years in India erecting steel plants at that place. He returned to Gary about two years ago and purchased the home located at 158 Colum Park Avenue and is believed to be a man of good character and reputation.

Telephone number 22153 is assigned to the Postal Telegraph Company at 104 West Fifth Avenue.

Telephone number 9011 belongs to Doctor H. J. Ryan, 504 Broadway, and in connection with this number Agent Mallen is securing information from the police department to determine the identity and character of Doctor Ryan.

Telephone number 44164 is the residence phone number of Doctor H. J. Ryan who lives at 158 Colum Park Avenue.

Regarding telephone number 1-800-555-1234 mentioned in the report of referenced, the telephone company advised that this number is listed in the name of Henry W. Krauss, 4545 Sheridan Road, which party has had the phone number in question since October 24, 1933.

Communication with the residence of Mrs. Herman Stern, 5490 South Shore Drive, telephone Halfway 2242, determined that James W. Gaskin, the chauffeur for the Stern family, would be reached at either Midway 5000, the number of the garage, or at his residence, telephone Dorchester 0250.

Mr. Gaskin was interviewed by Agent Metcalfe at his residence, 5490 South Shore Drive, at which time Mr. Gaskin advised that on the night of March 3, 1934, the Stern automobile which he was driving at the time was forcibly taken from him by two men, who, after driving about 2 or 3 blocks, released him. He said that he had viewed a number of photographs at police headquarters at the time, but that he was not at all certain that one of the individuals that took this car from him was Dillinger, although he was reported as having identified him in the newspapers the day after the car was taken.

Mr. Gaskin advised that the car in question was a Lincoln Seven Passenger Limousine, Model 156 (1933), having a black body with a white stripe around the wheeling. This car had two glass windows and the side walls of the tires were white. The motor number is KA369 and the car had 1934 Illinois License plates number 52-995. In the rear of the car, on the floor, was a white rubber mat. The metal covering over the lock on the right front door had been broken off. The initials "FVS" appear on the rear door on each side of the car. This car was stolen in front of 2440 Lakeview Avenue by two men driving in a gray automobile. Mr. Gaskin said that it was dark and he was unable to describe either of the individuals. He said that the theft of this car was reported by Mr. Herman Stern at the Detective Bureau of the Chicago Police Department immediately after the loss of the car. He further stated that at the time of this interview, March 14, 1934, the car had not yet been recovered.

Further interview with Mr. E. H. Benson determined that the person referred to by him in the previous interview as being the man who is said to have seen Dillinger in the early part of this year, was Mr. Burton, an Insurance salesman, telephone Dorchester 2249.

Mr. Burton was located on the floor of Agent Matelli's and he advised that his name is Mr. Burton and he resides at 75th Dante Avenue, and is employed as an insurance salesman for the Illinois Automobile Club. He stated that at 75th and Story Island on the north side of 75th Street there is about a quarter of a block separated on the west side by an alley, on the east side by Story Island, and on both of the east and west corners of this quarter block there are saloons. On the east corner of this quarter block at the saloon at that place, on or about January 1, 1935, he saw an automobile drive up containing three men, two of whom went into the saloon while the third remained in the car. They were all exceptionally well dressed and those that went into the saloon sat two in the saloon and were likewise very well dressed. The car in which they came appeared to be a medium sized car, a little larger than a Chevrolet or Ford and appearing to Mr. Burton as being a special car all the way through. He said he thought it had a specially built top, that was gray-blue in color and seemed to have the appearance of a taxi cab, and that it had some name upon it, but he did not see it, although he could not remember the name. The car was of heavy steel, plain black fenders and heavy glass that may have been bullet proof. The body had square corners in the rear, a small oval window in the rear, and four doors. It had 1935 license plates of the last series. To Mr. Burton, the car in question had the appearance of possibly being an armored car. The occupants of the car were all 25 to 30 years of age and Mr. Burton was quite certain that one of the men closely resembled Billinger. He said that he had never seen this car since that time but that if he does he will communicate with this office. He also stated that when he saw this car drive up to the saloon it was followed by another car which was a black Ford sedan containing some more men but he did not pay much attention to this car or its occupants.

At 2535 East Ford Street, at which place Evelyn Frechette was supposed to have resided in April, 1935, inspection of the mail boxes at this building, which is a large court apartment building, failed to reveal any name of interest to this investigation. The premises is owned by the Elmer Realty Company, 1922 East 10th Street. The manager is Elmer Carlson, 2535 East Ford Street. Mr. Carlson was interviewed by Agent Matelli, but he could not recall anyone by the name of Frechette, Sam Harris or Sam Sparks, aliases of Evelyn Frechette, but was able to identify the picture of Billinger as members of his mob as being familiar to him.

At the South Shore Post Office, 2207 East 15th Street, no record of a removal was found as to Evelyn Freshette or any of her aliases.

At 4310 Clarendon Avenue, which is a large court apartment building, Mr. Charles Bryan, the agent for the premises, was interviewed by Agents Guerrero and Metcalfe and he advised that last November two men and two women occupied an apartment at 4310 Clarendon for about one month. These people aroused his suspicions by the fact that they gave large tips to the janitor and other help on the premises for small services rendered them, which services were included in the rental of the apartment and for which tenants are not expected to pay the employees. These tips would vary from one dollar to five dollars, and on each occasion they would be reported by the janitor to the agent. The apartment was taken in the name of Joseph Harris and the name of the other was Ross (first name unknown). According to Mr. Bryan, Joseph Harris may have been identical with John Billinger and after viewing a number of pictures he said that Ross might have been identical with Harry Pierpont. He said that the tenants in question were quiet and apparently respectable people.

Mr. Bryan further stated that the Chicago Police came to this apartment sometime within twenty-four hours after the departure of the tenants, and the fact that the tenants in question had left in great haste indicated to Mr. Bryan that possibly someone had tipped them off to the fact that the police were planning to call at this apartment. These people did not file any application at the time they rented the apartment, which was a furnished apartment, and the only information Mr. Bryan obtained was that they said they were from St. Louis.

Mr. Bryan also viewed the picture of Evelyn Freshette and said it looked like one of the women in the apartment but he could not be sure. These people had a Plymouth and Buick automobile which they kept in a garage in the rear of the premises.

At the Grant Hospital, 351 Grant Place, Chicago, at which place according to the history of Evelyn Freshette, she was supposed to have received medical attention in July, 1937, inquiry by Agents Guerrero and Metcalfe determined that one, Evelyn Freshette of 1542 Cleveland Avenue, telephone Lincoln 3113, an number 74078, was a patient at this hospital on July 12, 1937. She gave her age as 19 years and stated she was born at Neopit, Wisconsin; that she was an American; a Catholic; single and having no occupation. She gave

Her mother's maiden name is Mary Schmitt and her father's name is William Frechette, who was born in Wisconsin. She also stated in this report that she had been in Chicago for two years. The physician who attended her was Doctor C. G. Herberich, 1125 North Albany Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent P. C. Guerrero:

Previous information disclosed that a Mrs. E. McKee, 1115 North Hermitage had employed one, Frances G. Schultz, supposedly a sister of Mary Evelyn Frechette.

Mrs. McKee, on being interviewed in the presence of her husband, stated that she had met Frances Schultz about two years ago at 1515 Flournoy Street, Chicago through her landlord's son, Sam Lonato. Mrs. McKee, by the way, denied knowing the personal history and whereabouts of Mrs. Schultz, saying that the acquaintance was never less casual. Mrs. McKee advised that she did not know Frances's husband. She stated further that Mrs. Schultz used to do house work on the north side; that she did not know the sister of Mrs. Schultz.

This information was confirmed by E. McKee, husband of Mrs. McKee.

At the Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, 504 North Crawford Avenue, it was ascertained that there is no record of Mary Evelyn Frechette, or her known aliases, as having ever been a patient at that hospital. When advised that Miss Frechette is part Indian, [redacted] stated that to the best of her recollection there had been a patient in the institution who was part Indian who went under the name of [redacted] [REDACTED] it was thought that [REDACTED] because of her nativity as being a French Indian, was identical with Mary Evelyn Frechette. However, when Miss Frechette's photograph was shown to [REDACTED] of the hospital, she stated that the picture was not identical in any way with the [REDACTED] that had been admitted to the hospital.

At 2203-05 Humboldt Avenue, Mrs. Marie Samelson, landlady of the premises, stated that she has no information concerning Mary Evelyn Frechette under her correct name or known aliases, as well as John Dillinger or members of his gang. Photographs of Mary Evelyn Frechette and John Dillinger were shown to Mrs. Samelson but she failed to identify any of them as being tenants of the premises.

At 1542 Cleveland Avenue, Mrs. Elizabeth Gittman stated that she had lived at the premises for 17 years and stated that Mary Frechette had never lived at this address. Mrs. Gittman stated that she owned the premises and that she had never rented any room to anyone since she had lived at the above address. A photograph of Mary Frechette was shown to Mrs. Gittman but she failed to identify same.

Mrs. John Paulson, 514 Boscoe Avenue, stated that she has lived at this address for the last four years and has no information concerning Mary Evelyn Frechette or any of her known aliases. Mrs. Paulson stated that she could not identify the photograph of Miss Frechette as well as John Dillinger and members of his mob when the same were exhibited to her.

Inquiries at the Boston Post Office, 1344 Lawrence Avenue, failed to disclose any forwarding address of Mary Evelyn Frechette or her known aliases.

Pursuant to a memorandum submitted by Special Agent Nature dated March 15, 1935, advising that on November 23, 1933, one, Frank Kirtley of 2738 Pine Grove Avenue, Chicago, bought an Essex Coupe from the Logan Square Hudson Company, 2505 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago, investigation disclosed that Mr. J. H. Cizek, proprietor of the company, sold a Terraplane Coupe, 8, motor number 21192, serial number 80921, key number 404, to a man who gave his name as Frank Kirtley on November 23, 1933; that the car in question was bought for cash at $698.00. Mr. Cizek stated that the Chicago Police have summoned him to police headquarters where they displayed several photographs of Dillinger and his gang but that he failed to identify any of them as being identical with the man who bought the car in question and who gave his name as Frank Kirtley. He also stated that he remembered the purchaser of the car as about 6 feet 7 inches in height, of medium complexion, stocky build, and wearing a dark overcoat. He also stated that he has seen several photographs of Dillinger in the newspapers as well as identification orders issued by the police and this Division, but that Dillinger was not identical with the purchaser of the car from his company. He also stated that the purchaser of the car was accompanied by a young woman whom he described as an "attractive blonde". When being shown the photograph of Mary Evelyn Frechette, Mr. Cisek stated that it was not identical with the woman who accompanied the purchaser of the car.

On March 18, 1934, Special Agent V. W. Peterson of this office advised by memorandum that Evelyn H. Meyer, Clerk of the Post Office at Niles Center, Illinois, told him that a man whom she recognized as Dillinger by photographs which appeared in newspapers and news reels, called at the Niles Center Post Office on March 8, 1934, and purchased a money order. This individual claimed that his arm was hurt and stated that he was unable to fill out the application for a money order. Miss Meyer, thereupon, filled out the application in accordance with his instructions.

The application in question disclosed that the money order was number 64571; that it was purchased on March 8, 1934 by a man who gave his name as Fred Duckmiller of 928 Collet, Danville, Illinois. The money order in question was made payable to the Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois, and was supposed to be for the payment of automobile license plates. Miss Meyer was not positive as to the identification but advised that there was a very strong similarity and she appeared to believe that the man in question was Dillinger himself.

Pursuant to this information a telegram was dispatched to the Division office at St. Louis on March 21, 1934 advising that office of the above information and requesting them to conduct appropriate investigation for the purpose of effecting the identity of the individual at 928 Collet Street, Danville, Illinois.

Previous information disclosed that one Bill Davis is closely associated with the Dillinger gang. Further, that Bill Davis is presently under indictment in the State Courts for attempted murder.

Inquiries at the Office of the Clerk of Court, however, revealed no record of one, Bill Davis. It was suggested by the Clerk of the Court that possibly the Detective Bureau of the Chicago Police Department had a record of this individual.

At 2125 Lincoln Parkway, where Bill Davis is supposed to reside, discreet inquiry revealed that no such individual is known at this address.

A review of the files in this office revealed that one, Frank Whitcomb of Lebanon, Kentucky, a former convict, was very closely associated with Dillinger. Accordingly on March 15, 1934, a telegram was sent to the Cincinnati office requesting that office to make appropriate investigation at that point with a view to determining whether Dillinger has been in that vicinity recently.

Re: John Herbert Dillinger with aliases,
I.O. #1217 - Fugitive - Et Al. -
National Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

Dear Sir:

With reference to information furnished this office on March 22, 1934 by Mr. Clegg of the Division to the effect that L. W. Houston, Sports Editor of the Fredericksburg Free Lance Telegraph Newspaper stated that a green Buick Coupe bearing Indiana tags had stopped at a Shell Station at Fredericksburg on the same date at approximately 10:00 a.m. to purchase gas and oil and which car was driven by an individual described as five feet, ten inches tall, weight 165 pounds, wearing smoked glasses, a dark brown fuzzy hat and a small mustache, having a sharp coarse voice, and whom it was believed by the operator of the Shell Filling Station, Mr. Swift, to possibly be John Dillinger, Agent called Mr. Swift by telephone who stated that this individual was wearing tan gloves and a scarf tied in knots about the neck; that he had purchased eleven gallons of gas, one quart of oil; that the car which he was driving was a 1934 model sport coupe with wire wheels and bearing Indiana license plates, the first three numbers of which were either 462 or 426. Subsequent to this, Agents Hirsh and Schoales of this office took a number of pictures, among which were two photographs of Dillinger, one of Balmy Davis, Fred Barker, Alvin Karpis, Arthur R. Barker and Harry Campbell, to Fredericksburg the same date and exhibited them to Mr. P. G. Thrift who operates the Shell Station in Fredericksburg, Virginia, and from these pictures he picked out the one of Arthur R. Barker as being the one which most resembled the individual who stopped at his filling station on the morning of March 22, 1934. However, he was not positive in his identification, he claiming that because of the fact that the individual who stopped at his station wore large dark glasses, he was not able to make a positive identification. He described this individual to Agents Schoales and Hirsh as 33 years of age, five feet, eight inches tall, weight 165 pounds, complexion fair, wearing a small mustache, colored glasses, brown snap-brimmed hat, a blue scarf tied in a knot high about his neck and a gray overcoat.

He advised that he did not notice any marks or scars about this individual's face but did not get an opportunity to see his hands because of the fact that the individual only took his glove 24 1934 A.M.

moment while taking two one dollar bills, a nickel and two pennies out of his pocket to pay for the gasoline and an additional one dollar bill to pay for a quart of oil. He further stated that the 1934 Buick Sport Coupe which this individual was driving was pea green in color, that it bore Indiana license plates, the number of which he could not recall, but started with 4. He was positive that it was an Indiana license plate because of the fact that he cleaned the plate while the car was stopped at the station. He advised that this individual asked no questions to speak of, seemed to be interested in keeping his distance from anyone at the station and when he left the station he headed north towards Washington.

Mr. W. S. Reynolds who was also at the filling station when this unknown individual appeared examined the same photographs as exhibited to Thrift and advised that the side view of the picture of Dillinger appeared to be more like the individual who stopped at this Shell station on the morning of March 22, 1934 than any of the other pictures. However, he frankly admitted that he was not at all sure of his identification. It might be noted that according to the description of Arthur R. Barker furnished by the Division, his hair is described as black while the hair of this individual who stopped at the Shell station at Fredericksburg, Virginia was light brown. A further discrepancy in the description of the two is that Barker according to the description furnished by the Division, weighs 119 pounds, while the unknown individual seen by Thrift and Reynolds was described as weighing 165 pounds. Also the height of Barker as furnished by the Division is five feet, three and three quarter inches, while the description of the unknown individual mentioned herein is that he is five feet, eight inches tall.

On the evening of March 22, 1934, through the Detective Bureau, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., arrangements were made whereby the local police would broadcast a lookout for a 1934 Buick Sport Coupe, pea green in color, bearing Indiana license plates, the first three digits being 422 or 426 or 462. Special Agent in Charge Keith also conferred with Major Brown, Superintendent of Police, explained the details of this information and requested that should such a car be located by any of his patrolmen or scout cars, this office be immediately notified.

Very truly yours,

L. R. Pennington

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CLEGG

Reference is made to my memorandum of March 17, 1934, concerning the submission, by the Sheriff at Mason City, Iowa, of latent fingerprints found at the scene of a bank hold-up at Mason City, Iowa, for comparison with the fingerprints of John Dillinger and one Carpenter. The Carpenter whose name was furnished by the Sheriff has been identified as Frank Dennis Carpenter, a copy of whose record will be found in Mr. Schilder's memorandum of today's date. Carpenter's fingerprints have been compared with the latent fingerprints, with negative results.

This information is being submitted for record purposes.

Respectfully,

E. P. Coffey
